

Contents

- 1 The Financial Literacy Imperative..... 1
 - 1.1 Defining Financial Education 3
 - 1.2 Making a General Case for Financial Education 5
 - 1.3 Financial Education in Colleges and Universities 5
 - 1.3.1 Models and Delivery Mechanisms for Financial Education 6
 - 1.3.2 Program Content 7
 - 1.3.3 State Colleges and Universities and Financial Education.... 8
 - 1.4 Study Methods 9
 - 1.4.1 The Data Collection Process and Analysis 10
 - 1.5 Organization of Findings 14
 - References..... 15
- 2 Program Delivery and Organizational Models in State Colleges and Universities..... 19
 - 2.1 Financial Education Program Delivery in State Colleges and Universities..... 19
 - 2.1.1 “For-Credit” Personal Finance Courses 19
 - 2.1.2 Section(s) within the Freshman Seminar/First Year Experience (FYE) Course 21
 - 2.1.3 Established Agreements/Relationships with Financial Institutions..... 21
 - 2.1.4 Financial Literacy Seminars/Workshops/Sessions..... 22
 - 2.1.5 Special Events/Activities 23
 - 2.1.6 Online Resources 23
 - 2.1.7 Peer Counseling and Peer Mentoring 24
 - 2.1.8 Individualized Financial Counseling 25
 - 2.1.9 Money Management or Financial Education Centers..... 25
 - 2.1.10 Classroom and Group Presentations 25
 - 2.1.11 Other Efforts 26

2.2	Typology of Financial Education Programs:
	Organizational Models	26
2.2.1	The Academic Model.....	26
2.2.2	The Full-Fledged Money Management Center.....	27
2.2.3	The Seed Program or Aspirational Model	28
2.2.4	The Branch or Interspersed Model	29
	References.....	30
3	The Academic Model Case Study	31
3.1	The East Carolina University Case Study	31
3.1.1	Introduction.....	32
3.1.2	Course Start-Up and Growth.....	33
3.1.3	Composition of the Classes.....	33
3.1.4	Popularity of the Personal Financial Management Course	34
3.1.5	Teaching Methods and Techniques	35
3.1.6	Course Content.....	38
3.1.7	Course Management and Requirements	42
3.1.8	Creating a Book for the Course	43
3.1.9	Course Evaluation, Feedback, and Success	45
3.1.10	Pros and Cons of Teaching Personal Finance within a College of Business.....	47
3.1.11	Administrative Support for the Course	48
3.1.12	Current Challenges.....	49
3.1.13	Strengths and Weaknesses of the Course.....	50
3.1.14	Course Funding.....	51
3.1.15	Course Marketing.....	51
3.1.16	Course Success.....	52
3.1.17	Evolution of a Broader Financial Literacy Program at ECU.....	52
3.1.18	Program Spin-Offs	55
	References.....	58
4	The Full-Fledged Money Management Center Case Studies	59
4.1	Sam Houston State University, Student Money Management Center	59
4.1.1	Introduction.....	59
4.1.2	Establishing the SMMC.....	61
4.1.3	Nature of the Financial Education Program.....	64
4.1.4	Evolution of the Program.....	71
4.1.5	Organizational Positioning of Program.....	71
4.1.6	Funding, Resources, and Key Partnerships.....	72
4.1.7	Scale of Operations	73
4.1.8	Advertising the Program	74
4.1.9	Program Content and Delivery Mechanisms	74
4.1.10	Program Evaluation, Feedback, and Success.....	75

4.1.11	Program Spin-Offs	75
4.1.12	Current Program Challenges.....	77
4.2	University of Wisconsin La Crosse It Make$ Cents! Money Management Program.....	77
4.2.1	Introduction.....	77
4.2.2	Starting a Pilot Financial Education Program on Campus	78
4.2.3	Evolution into a Full-Fledged Financial Education Program.....	79
4.2.4	Nature of the Financial Education Program.....	81
4.2.5	Advertising the Program	84
4.2.6	Program Funding and Resources	85
4.2.7	Support for the Program.....	86
4.2.8	Strengths and Challenges.....	86
4.2.9	Program Content and Delivery Mechanisms	87
4.2.10	Organizational Placement and Supervision	87
4.2.11	Scale of Operations.....	87
4.2.12	Program Evaluation, Feedback, and Success.....	89
4.2.13	Program Award	89
4.2.14	Another Form of Financial Education on Campus	89
	References.....	90
5	The Seed Program Case Studies.....	91
5.1	Grand Valley State University MoneySmart Lakers	91
5.1.1	Introduction.....	91
5.1.2	Establishing the Financial Education Program	92
5.1.3	Nature of the Financial Education Program.....	94
5.1.4	Evolution of the Program.....	96
5.1.5	Organizational Positioning of Program.....	97
5.1.6	Funding, Resources, and Key Partnerships.....	97
5.1.7	Scale of Operations	98
5.1.8	Advertising the Program	98
5.1.9	Program Content and Delivery	99
5.1.10	Program Challenges	99
5.2	Purchase College SUNY Financial Education Program	101
5.2.1	Introduction.....	101
5.2.2	Establishing a Financial Education Program	101
5.2.3	Nature of the Financial Education Program.....	102
5.2.4	Evolution of the Program.....	107
5.2.5	Organizational Placement of Program	107
5.2.6	Challenges to Implementation and Continuation.....	108
5.2.7	Advertising the Program	108
5.2.8	Program Content	108
5.2.9	Program Evaluation and Success	109

5.3	University of Texas at San Antonio Rowdy Cents Program	109
5.3.1	Introduction.....	109
5.3.2	Establishing an Initial Financial Education Program.....	110
5.3.3	The Second Phase of the Rowdy Cents Program.....	111
5.3.4	Nature of the Current Program	112
5.3.5	Influences on the Evolution of the Current Program	115
5.3.6	Funding, Resources, and Key Partnerships.....	116
5.3.7	Scale of Operations.....	117
5.3.8	Advertising the Program	117
5.3.9	Program Content and Delivery	118
5.3.10	Program Evaluation, Feedback, and Success.....	118
5.3.11	Current Program Challenges.....	119
	References.....	119
6	The Branch Model Case Study	121
6.1	CSUN Financial Education Programs	121
6.1.1	Introduction.....	122
6.1.2	Efforts of the Financial Aid and Scholarship Department.....	122
6.1.3	Efforts of the Department of Finance, Financial Planning, and Insurance	126
6.1.4	Efforts of the Department of Family and Consumer Sciences	128
6.1.5	The Financial Literacy Affinity Group	130
	References.....	131
7	Summary and Conclusion	133
7.1	Summary	133
7.2	Key Findings Across Programs and Models.....	140
7.3	Reasons Why Some Colleges and Universities Do Not Offer Financial Education	141
	References.....	142
	Appendix: Semi-structured Questions for Case Studies	143
	Index.....	147

Financial Education in U.S. State Colleges and Universities

Establishing and Building Programs

Danns, D.E.

2016, XIV, 151 p. 5 illus. in color., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-24428-0