

Contents

1	Teachers and Students as Co-Learners	1
	Background 1—We are All Learners	1
	Strategy 1—Celebrate Negative Feedback	1
	Background 2—The Effects of Expectations	2
	Strategy 2—Show that We’re Lifelong Learners	2
	Background 3—Teachers Share About Themselves	3
	Strategy 3—Make Connections to Our Own Lives	3
	Background 4—Sages Versus Guides	4
	Strategy 4—Let Students Teach	5
	Background 5—Listen to Learn	5
	Strategy 5—Take Time to Understand What Students are Trying to Say	6
	Background 6—Building on Students’ Experiences	6
	Strategy 6—Tap Student Expertise	7
	Background 7—Journaling	7
	Strategy 7—Ask Students to Write Journal Entries	7
	Background 8—Sharing Our Learning with Our Students	8
	Strategy 8—Tell Students What We are Reading/Viewing	8
	Background 9—See Our Teaching Through Students’ Eyes	9
	Strategy 9—Ask Students to Evaluate	9
	Your Turn	10
	References	10
2	Student–Student Interaction	11
	Background 1—Making a Learning Space	11
	Strategy 1—Arrange the Room to Facilitate Peer Interaction	11
	Background 2—The Size of Student Groups	12
	Strategy 2—Start with Pairs	12

Background 3—Larger Groups	12
Strategy 3—Combine Pairs into Foursomes	13
Background 4—Cooperative Learning	13
Strategy 4—Group Members Have Numbers.	14
Background 5—Collaborative Skills	14
Strategy 5—Teach Collaborative Skills	14
Background 6—Believing in the Power of Groups	15
Strategy 6—Encourage Students to Remember Successful Groups	15
Background 7—Individual Work	16
Strategy 7—Do Individual Assessment.	16
Background 8—Sponge Activities	16
Strategy 8—Ask Early Finishers to Help Others	17
Your Turn.	17
References	18
3 Learner Autonomy	19
Background 1—Choices	19
Strategy 1—Give Students Choices	19
Background 2—Independence	20
Strategy 2—Use Doable Tasks	20
Background 3—Peer Feedback	20
Strategy 3—Promoting Peer Feedback	21
Background 4—Student-Developed Materials	21
Strategy 4—Help Students Share Their Work with Others	22
Background 5—Students Taking Responsibility	22
Strategy 5—Encourage Students to Look Out for Peers	22
Background 6—Peers as the First Resort.	22
Strategy 6—Don't Be the First Resort	23
Background 7—Teacher as Guide	23
Strategy 7—Sideline Yourself	24
Background 8—Reflecting on Learning	24
Strategy 8—Ask for Exit Tickets.	25
Background 9—From Practical to General Learning	25
Strategy 9—Highlight the Big Picture	26
Your Turn.	26
References	26
4 Focus on Meaning	29
Background 1	29
Strategy 1—Explain the What, Why, and How	30
Background 2—Framing Learning	30
Strategy 2—Share the Plan	31

Background 3—Instruction Connected to the Real World	31
Strategy 3—Be Willing to Change the Plan	31
Background 4—Linking Instruction to Students' Interests	32
Strategy 4—Learn About What Students Are into	32
Background 5—Keeping It in Context	32
Strategy 5—Ask for Students' Views and Experiences	33
Background 6—Keeping It Real	33
Strategy 6—Look for Real Tasks.	34
Background 7—Meaning Over Form	34
Strategy 7—Remember the Meaning	35
Background 8—Content-Specific Language	35
Strategy 8—Be a Translator and Language Teacher	35
Background 9—Learning the Language of School	36
Strategy 9—Encourage Students to Read, Listen, and View Extensively in the Medium of Instruction.	36
Your Turn.	37
References	37
 5 Curricular Integration	 39
Background 1—Make the Connections Explicit	39
Strategy 1—Help Students See Connections to Other Classes	39
Background 2—Putting It All Together.	40
Strategy 2—Invite Students to Make Connections Beyond the Classroom	40
Background 3—Focus on the Big Picture	41
Strategy 3—Illuminate Links to Careers	41
Strategy 3—Growing Connections	42
Background 4—Problem-Solving Opportunities	42
Strategy 4—Simulate Real Uses	42
Background 5—Learning to Be of Service	43
Strategy 5—Promote Service Learning	43
Background 6—Teacher Collaboration	43
Strategy 6—Find a Friendly Colleague.	44
Background 7—Realia	44
Strategy 7—Use Realia	45
Background 8—Reading Across the Content Areas	45
Strategy 8—Encourage Fiction Reading to Compliment Academics	45
Background 9—Ethics	45
Strategy 9—Talk About Ethics	46
Your Turn.	46
References	46

6	Diversity	47
	Background 1—Mixed Grouping	47
	Strategy 1—Think About How Your Students Differ	47
	Background 2—Teambuilding	48
	Strategy 2—Do Teambuilding	48
	Background 3—Multiple Intelligences	49
	Strategy 3—Add Drawing	49
	Background 4—Variety Is not Only for Fun	49
	Strategy 4—Be Rigorous	50
	Background 5—Bodily/Kinesthetic Intelligence	50
	Strategy 5—Add Acting	50
	Background 6—The Benefits of Mixing Students by Age	50
	Strategy 6—Initiate Cross Age Tutoring	51
	Background 7—Addressing Academic Status Differences	51
	Strategy 7—Find and Praise Everyone’s Strengths	51
	Background 8—Unequal Distribution of Teachers’ Attention	52
	Strategy 8—Measure Your Attention Distribution	52
	Background 9—Supplement Your Impressions	52
	Strategy 9—Video Record Our Own Teaching	52
	Your Turn	53
	References	53
7	Thinking Skills	55
	Background 1—Asking for Reasons to Encourage Thinking	55
	Strategy 1—Ask “Why” and Encourage Students to Do the Same	56
	Background 2—Students Create Questions for Other Students	57
	Strategy 2—Use Exchange-A-Question	57
	Background 3—It Is Okay to Be Wrong or to not Know	57
	Strategy 3—Admit Ignorance	58
	Background 4—Graphic Organizers	58
	Strategy 4—Teach Graphic Organizers	58
	Background 5—A Technique to Assess and Build Knowledge	58
	Strategy 5—Encourage Questioning of Information and Interpretations Presented in Textbooks, Etc.	59
	Background 6—Going Beyond the Information Given	59
	Strategy 6—Ask for Examples	60
	Background 7—The Benefits of Conflict	60
	Strategy 7—Teach Constructive Disagreement	60
	Background 8—Developing Thinking Skills	61
	Strategy 8—Ask Students’ Opinions	61
	Background 9—Giving Students Time Is Saying “I Believe in You”	61
	Strategy 9—Provide Wait Time and Clues	62

Background 10—Benefiting from Failure	62
Strategy 10—Observe Students’ Adversity Quotient.	63
Your Turn.	63
References	63
8 Alternative Assessment	65
Background 1—Formative Assessment	65
Strategy 1—Do 3-2-1.	66
Background 2—Learning Orientation versus Performance Orientation	66
Strategy 2—Serve Comment Sandwiches	66
Background 3—A Process Orientation	67
Strategy 3—Ask About Process.	67
Background 4—Metacognition.	67
Strategy 4—Think Aloud	68
Background 5—Inclusive Education	68
Strategy 5—Gladly Arrange Assessment Accommodation for Students with Special Needs	68
Background 6—Groups as a Scaffolding Tool	68
Strategy 6—Give Group Tests	69
Background 7—Encouraging Peer Feedback	69
Strategy 7—Give Fast Feedback	69
Background 8—Transparency in Testing.	70
Strategy 8—Invite Students to Construct Assessments	70
Background 9—Matching Assessment Tasks to Real World Tasks	70
Strategy 9—Make it Real.	70
Background 10—Rubrics to Take the Surprise Out of Assessment	70
Strategy 10—Provide Sample Responses	71
Background 11—Students Assess Themselves	71
Strategy 11—Ask Students to Track Their Progress.	71
Your Turn.	72
References	72
9 Learning Climate	73
Background 1—Fractured Focus	73
Strategy 1—Help Students Focus	74
Background 2—Words to Learn By	74
Strategy 2—Use Quotations and Proverbs to Promote a Purposeful Climate	74
Background 3—The Power of Stories.	76
Strategy 3—Use Stories to Create a Positive Climate	76
Background 4—Positive Psychology	76
Strategy 4—Emphasize the Positive.	77

Background 5—Reverse the Happiness Formula	77
Strategy 5—Encourage Acts of Kindness	78
Background 6—Physical Exercise	78
Strategy 6—Use Brief Exercise to Enliven Learning	78
Background 7—Water for the Brain	78
Strategy 7—Increase Water Intake	79
Background 8—No Tolerance for Bullying	79
Strategy 8—Discuss Bullying and Insults with Students	80
Your Turn.	80
References	80
10 Motivation	81
Background 1—Success and the Prospect of Success	81
Strategy 1—Don’t Fly Only with the Eagles	81
Background 2—The Importance of Background Knowledge	82
Strategy 2—Identify and Help Struggling Students as Soon as Possible	82
Background 3—Increasing Students’ Feeling of Control	83
Strategy 3—Help Students Set Goals	83
Background 4—Education to Help Society	83
Strategy 4—Encourage Students to Learn for the Benefit of Others	84
Background 5—Flow	84
Strategy 5—Tell Students They Can Improve	84
Background 6—Are Classroom Routines Good?	84
Strategy 6—Break the Monotony	85
Background 7—Asking Students	85
Strategy 7—Do Simple Needs Analyses	85
Background 8—Students Motivate Teachers	85
Strategy 8—Thank Students for Motivating Us	86
Your Turn.	86
References	86
11 Conclusion: Keepin’ on Keepin’ on	87
Background 1—Going Together to Go Far	87
Strategy 1—Learn Together with Other Teachers About Student Centered Practices via Books, Articles, Videos, Podcasts, and More	88
Background 2—Staying Positive	88
Strategy 2—Share with Less Inclined Colleagues	88
Background 3—Including Everyone	89
Strategy 3—Share with Education Professionals Who Are Not Teaching	89

Background 4—Including Families.	89
Strategy 4—Keep Everyone Informed	89
Background 5—Opportunities for Teachers to Experience a New Way.	90
Strategy 5—Create Student Centered Staff Meetings	90
Background 6—Seeing Is Believing	91
Strategy 6—Invite Colleagues to See SCL in Action	91
Background 7—Many Ways to Share.	91
Strategy 7—Share Lesson Plans and Materials	92
Background 8—Social Skills Use Among Teachers	92
Strategy 8—Praise Fellow Teachers for Their Use of Student Centered Strategies.	92
Background 9—Research and Reflection by Teachers.	92
Strategy 9—Reflect on Use of SCL.	93
Background 10—The Power of Visuals	93
Strategy 10—Pay Attention to Pictures.	93
Background 11—New Technology.	93
Strategy 11—Use Electronic Tools	93
Background 12—The Power of Dreams	94
Strategy 12—Share Our Dream.	94
Your Turn.	94
References	95

Simple, Powerful Strategies for Student Centered
Learning

Jacobs, G.; Renandya, W.A.; Power, M.

2016, XVII, 95 p., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-25710-5