

Contents

1	Living in Another Country and Dealing with Cultural Differences	1
1.1	What's the buzz?	2
1.2	What is the difference between travelling around a country and actually living there?	3
1.3	I am not sure about whether I would like living in another country. Is there any way to simulate the experience?	4
1.4	What typical difficulties do people encounter when living for a period abroad? How long does it take to get used to living in a new country?	5
1.5	What do I do when the initial excitement of living in a foreign country wears off?	6
1.6	Will the teaching style of professors be different from that in my home country? Are student-professor relationships different?	6
1.7	What things will I have to do on arrival at my university?	7
1.8	What student services are typically offered at universities?	8
1.9	I have read a lot of contradictory information about the host country on the Internet – how do I know what to believe?	9
1.10	Should I re-evaluate any stereotypes that I have of my host country?	11
1.11	What typical cross-cultural conversations am I likely to have?	12
1.12	How do I deal with the stereotypes that the other students might have of people from my country or if I am being victimized because of my nationality / race?	14
1.13	How should I deal with questions that I do not want to answer?	16

2 Relationships with Fellow Students	17
2.1 What's the buzz?	18
2.2 How should I introduce myself?	20
2.3 What questions do students typically ask each other when they have just met?	21
2.4 How can I find out more about my fellow students?	22
2.5 How can I establish a feeling of solidarity with my fellow students? i) coursework and exams	24
2.6 How can I establish a feeling of solidarity with my fellow students? ii) everyday life on campus	26
2.7 Are there some topics of conversation that are not acceptable for particular nationalities?	26
2.8 What comments do I need to avoid that might offend students/professors from my host country?	28
2.9 What do I do if someone says something I don't agree with? How can I be diplomatic in my response?	29
2.10 How can I avoid sounding rude?	30
2.11 How can I invite someone who I have just met to do something together?	31
2.12 What excuses can I use for turning down invitations for social activities?	32
2.13 How can I avoid becoming socially isolated?	32
2.14 What excuses can I use for ending a conversation?	33
3 Communicating Face-to-Face with Professors	35
3.1 What's the buzz?	36
3.2 How should I address my professor / supervisor / advisor?	37
3.3 My prof seems very friendly and informal. Can I be friendly and informal with him/her too?	38
3.4 How different are professors from Anglo countries compared to those from other countries?	39
3.5 What questions do I need to ask my supervisor when I first meet him/her?	41
3.6 What do professors not like to see in a student?	42
3.7 What type of students do professors like?	43
3.8 How can I ask a favor face-to-face?	44
3.9 How can I make the most effective use of time spent with my professor during office hours?	45
3.10 How is an encounter during office hours typically structured? What particular phrases will I need?	46
3.11 What can I do to avoid 'bothering' my professor during office hours?	47

3.12	Is it OK to go up to the instructor at the end of the class/lecture/seminar? . . . . .	48
3.13	How do professors view people of different nationalities? . . . . .	49
3.14	What should I do if my supervisor asks me to do something I would prefer not to do? . . . . .	50
3.15	What can I do if a member of staff shows inappropriate interest in me? . . . . .	50
3.16	How should I behave with non-academic staff? . . . . .	51
4	Communicating with Professors via Email . . . . .	53
4.1	What's the buzz? . . . . .	54
4.2	What key points do I need to know about writing emails to my professors and supervisors? . . . . .	56
4.3	How should I address my professor, advisor, tutor (etc) in an email? . . . . .	58
4.4	What subject line should I use? . . . . .	59
4.5	How friendly can I be with my prof in an email? How important is it to check the spelling? . . . . .	60
4.6	Do I need to begin my email by asking how my professor is and other niceties? . . . . .	61
4.7	How can I ask my prof a favor via email? . . . . .	62
4.8	How polite do I need to be in my requests? . . . . .	63
4.9	I need to request an appointment to see my professor / supervisor. What's the best tactic? . . . . .	64
4.10	My professor hasn't responded to my request, what can I do? . . . . .	64
4.11	What's the best way to apologize? . . . . .	65
4.12	Is it OK to ask my professor to write me a reference letter/letter of recommendation? . . . . .	66
4.13	Should I email my professor to thank them for a course or for helping me in some way? . . . . .	67
5	Participating in Lectures, Tutorials, Meetings, Workshops, and Seminars . . . . .	69
5.1	What's the buzz? . . . . .	70
5.2	Should I intervene in class? If so, how? . . . . .	74
5.3	What are the benefits of interacting and the drawbacks of not interacting? . . . . .	75
5.4	What can I do if I am too shy to participate actively? . . . . .	76
5.5	What is the point of a study / discussion group? And what is a tutorial? . . . . .	76
5.6	What ground rules should a study group have? . . . . .	77
5.7	What are the various ways to express opinions during meetings and study groups? . . . . .	78
5.8	I don't want to do group work because it is against some of my cultural values. What should I do? . . . . .	79

5.9	How can I prepare a summary of what I have been reading / testing for the study group? . . . . .	79
5.10	How should I prepare for a (relatively formal) seminar or workshop? . . . . .	80
5.11	Is it a good idea to arrive early at a meeting / workshop / seminar? . . . . .	81
5.12	What can I do if the native speakers or fluent speakers dominate the discussion? . . . . .	81
5.13	My English is not great. How can I optimize it for the purposes of the meeting? . . . . .	82
5.14	How can I interrupt someone and what should I do if I am interrupted myself? . . . . .	83
5.15	How can I get silent or shy attendees to talk more? . . . . .	84
5.16	Is it worth making mini summaries? . . . . .	84
5.17	What typical phrases are used to wind up a meeting, seminar or workshop? . . . . .	85
6	Listening and Questioning During Lectures . . . . .	87
6.1	What's the buzz? . . . . .	88
6.2	How much you understand also depends on how much you pay attention . . . . .	90
6.3	Note taking. . . . .	91
6.4	Notice how the lecturer uses particular phrases and intonation to give signals. . . . .	91
6.5	Learn how to ask questions during a workshop, tutorial, informal lecture . . . . .	92
6.6	Asking questions during a study group session . . . . .	94
6.7	Accept that you will not, and do not need to, understand everything . . . . .	96
6.8	Be aware that not understanding a native speaker may have little to do with vocabulary . . . . .	96
6.9	Understand why you don't understand . . . . .	97
6.10	Learn how to recognize key words . . . . .	99
6.11	Listen rather than focusing on what you are going to say next . . . . .	101
6.12	Improve your listening habits . . . . .	101
7	Successful Conversations and Discussions . . . . .	103
7.1	What's the buzz? . . . . .	104
7.2	I am too shy and embarrassed to have a conversation in English, what can I do? . . . . .	107
7.3	Begin by making small talk . . . . .	108
7.4	Show interest . . . . .	109
7.5	Ask open questions . . . . .	110
7.6	Ask follow-up questions . . . . .	111

7.7	Encourage your interlocutor to continue talking on the same topic . . . . .	111
7.8	Make “announcements” rather than asking all the questions . . . . .	113
7.9	Avoid dominating the conversation . . . . .	113
7.10	Feel free to interrupt people who talk too much . . . . .	114
7.11	Involve everyone in the conversation. . . . .	115
7.12	Avoid long silences . . . . .	115
7.13	Prepare for the social conversations at formal occasions . . . . .	116
7.14	Direct the conversation to areas where you have a wider vocabulary or knowledge. . . . .	117
7.15	Bear in mind cultural differences. . . . .	118
7.16	Use conversations to practise your English grammar . . . . .	119
8	Telephoning . . . . .	121
8.1	What’s the buzz? . . . . .	122
8.2	Decide whether another form of communication might be more suitable. . . . .	123
8.3	Prepare and practice. . . . .	124
8.4	Consider using an email as a preliminary information exchange before the call. . . . .	124
8.5	Think about the time and the place of the call. . . . .	125
8.6	Beware of ringing people on their mobile phone. . . . .	125
8.7	Help the person that you want to speak to. . . . .	125
8.8	Learn the structure and typical phrases of a telephone message . . . . .	126
8.9	Practice spelling out addresses. . . . .	127
8.10	When spelling out telephone numbers, read each digit individually . . . . .	129
8.11	Compensate for lack of body language . . . . .	129
8.12	Avoid being too direct . . . . .	130
8.13	Use messaging, headphones and speaker phone to aid your communication . . . . .	130
8.14	Learn how to check that you have understood. . . . .	131
8.15	If you really can’t understand, learn a way to close the call . . . . .	132
8.16	Follow up with an email. . . . .	132
9	What to Say When You Don’t Understand
	What Someone Has Said . . . . .	133
9.1	What’s the buzz? . . . . .	134
9.2	Raise awareness in your interlocutor of your difficulty in understanding. . . . .	137
9.3	Identify the part of the phrase that you did not understand . . . . .	138
9.4	Identify the key word that you did not understand . . . . .	140

9.5	Avoid confusion between similar sounding words . . . . .	141
9.6	Turn your misunderstanding into something positive . . . . .	142
10	Improving Your Pronunciation . . . . .	143
10.1	What's the buzz? . . . . .	144
10.2	Avoid the typical pronunciation mistakes of people who speak your language. . . . .	146
10.3	Learn what to say if other students tease you because of your English accent. . . . .	146
10.4	Check for the pronunciation of key words in your field . . . . .	147
10.5	Sentence stress . . . . .	148
10.6	Using the correct stress and intonation during a meeting, seminar, workshop etc . . . . .	150
10.7	Word stress . . . . .	152
11	Improve Your English with Audiovisual Resources. . . . .	155
11.1	What's the buzz? . . . . .	156
11.2	Set yourself a realistic objective . . . . .	157
11.3	The news . . . . .	157
11.4	TED.com . . . . .	158
11.5	TV series . . . . .	159
11.6	Movies . . . . .	159
11.7	Reality shows . . . . .	160
11.8	Dragon's Den . . . . .	160
11.9	YouTube . . . . .	161
11.10	Subtitles . . . . .	161
11.11	Songs . . . . .	161
11.12	Audio books and podcasts . . . . .	161
12	Automatic Translation: Pros and Cons. . . . .	163
12.1	What's the buzz? . . . . .	164
12.2	The advantages of automatic translation . . . . .	166
12.3	Typical areas where Google Translate may make mistakes in English. . . . .	166
12.4	How to improve the chances of getting an accurate automatic translation. . . . .	170
12.5	Beware of the signs that Google Translate leaves behind . . . . .	172
12.6	Do NOT use Google Translate to check your English . . . . .	172
12.7	To see possible translations for a word or phrase in context use Reverso or Linguee . . . . .	173
12.8	Be careful of spelling . . . . .	174

13	Smileys, Acronyms, Txt Messg	175
13.1	What's the buzz?	176
13.2	Smileys.	177
13.3	Numbers.	177
13.4	Acronyms.	178
13.5	How sounds of letters are used	179
13.6	Use of symbols.	179
13.7	Contractions	180
13.8	Short forms.	181
13.9	Abbreviations.	181
13.10	Alternative spellings	181
14	Useful Phrases	183
14.1	What's the buzz?	184
14.2	Asking for and giving help.	185
14.3	Asking about courses, services, associations.	186
14.4	Questions to ask your tutor / professor when you first meet	186
14.5	Making arrangements for meetings with your professor	187
14.6	Clarifying what your professor has just said (in class)	188
14.7	Understanding native speakers and clarifying	188
14.8	Giving opinions and making suggestions	189
14.9	Interrupting and dealing with interruptions in study groups, seminars and workshops	190
14.10	Invitations.	191
14.11	Socializing	191
14.12	Leaving and saying goodbye	193
14.13	Traveling and hotels.	194
14.14	Telephoning	195
15	Mini Grammar and Frequently Confused Words List	197
15.1	What's the buzz?	198
15.2	Adverbs – position of.	201
15.3	Articles.	201
15.4	Comparisons	204
15.5	Conditionals.	204
15.6	Countable vs uncountable nouns	205
15.7	Future forms.	207
15.8	Gerund vs infinitive	209
15.9	Have/get something done.	211
15.10	Modal verbs	211
15.11	Passive form.	214
15.12	Past forms.	215

15.13 Phrasal verbs . . . . .	218
15.14 Present forms . . . . .	219
15.15 Progressive vs simple vs perfect . . . . .	220
15.16 Relative clauses . . . . .	221
15.17 Reported speech . . . . .	222
15.18 Time clauses . . . . .	223
15.19 Verbs + prepositions . . . . .	223
15.20 Frequently confused words . . . . .	224
15.21 False friends . . . . .	232
Sources and Acknowledgements . . . . .	235
Index . . . . .	239

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-28732-4>

English for Interacting on Campus

Wallwork, A.

2016, XVI, 240 p., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-28732-4