

Contents

1	Introduction	1
	Interdisciplinarity	2
	References.	3
2	A Conceptual Framework for Postmodernism	5
	References.	9
3	The Postmodern and Culture	11
	References.	12
4	The Postmodern	13
	References.	15
5	The Postmodern and Consciousness	17
	Contemporaneity and Consciousness.	18
	Contemporaneity and the Postmodern	19
	The Postmodern and Consciousness	19
	Consciousness of the Postmodern.	20
	The Consciousness of the Postmodern is Dialogical	21
	Consciousness and Deconstruction	21
	In Conclusion	22
	References.	22
6	The Postmodern and Contemporaneity	25
	In Conclusion	27
	References.	28
7	Modern—Postmodern: The Parallels	29
	In Conclusion	33
	References.	34
8	Postmodernism: A Critical Discourse	35
	The Criticism of Postmodernism as a Criticism of Modernism	36
	The Opposition of Postmodernism to Modernism	36

An Identification of Postmodernism with Modernism	36
An Identification of Postmodernism with a Metanarrative	37
Postmodernism as an Illusion of Polyculturality and Pluralism	37
Criticism of Postmodernism as a Historical Epoch	37
In Conclusion	38
References.	39
9 Contemporaneity and Dialogue	41
Postmodern: A Thematisation of Woman.	42
Women in Science	43
Gender Culture in the Scope of the Philosophy of Dialogue.	44
In Conclusion	46
References.	47
10 Modernisation	49
In Conclusion	52
References.	53
11 Postmodernisation.	55
In Conclusion	58
References.	59
12 Non-western Contemporaneity and the Postmodern	61
The Non-west as an Alternative Concept.	62
“Alternative” Modernisms in the Discourse on the Postmodern	65
In Conclusion	66
References.	66
13 The Postmodern and Religion: A Discursive Analysis	67
In Conclusion	70
References.	71
14 Postmodernist Indicators in the Public Consciousness of Non-western Societies	73
In Conclusion	75
References.	76
15 Multiculturalism in the Postmodernist Discourse	77
Multiculturalism as Plural Modernities	80
In Conclusion	81
References.	82
Index Names	83
Index Words	85

The Challenges of Contemporaneity

Postmodernity and Multiculturalism

Rzayeva Oktay, R.

2016, VIII, 88 p., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-33884-2