Contents

1 Introduction. The Social Sciences of Quantification in France: An Overview 1
Isabelle Bruno, Florence Jany-Catrice and Béatrice Touchelay

Part I Sociology of Quantification: Alain Desrosières's contributions

2 Introduction to the work of Alain Desrosières: the history and sociology of quantification 17
Michel Armatte

3 Alain Desrosières's reflexive numbers 33
Luc Boltanski

4 Alain Desrosières's spectacles: one lens realist, the other constructivist 43
Emmanuel Didier

5 From statistics to international quantification: a dialogue with Alain Desrosières 55
Roser Cussó

6 Learning from the history of the probabilistic revolution: the French school of Alain Desrosières 67
Fabrice Bardet

Part II The Statistical Argument in the Neoliberal Era

7 Quantifying the effects of public action on the unemployed: disputes between experts and the rethinking of labour market policies in France (1980-2000) 83
Etienne Penissat

8 Counting the homeless in Europe: 'compare before harmonising' 97
Cécile Brousse

9 The statistical backbone of the new European economic governance: the Macroeconomic Imbalance Procedure Scoreboard 109
Gilles Raveaud

10 Evaluating public policies or measuring the performance of public services? 129
Florence Jany-Catrice

Part III Uses of Quantification : Power and Resistance

11 Private accounting, statistics and national accounting in France: a unique relationship (1920-1960s) 139
Béatrice Touchelay

12 Figures for what purposes? The issues at stake in the struggles to define and control the uses of statistics 149
Marion Gilles

13 The uses of quantification: power and resistance. The example of unemployment statistics 161
Pierre Concialdi

14 Statistical argument: construction, uses and controversies. Prices and purchasing power 171
Alain Gély, Bernard Sujobert and Béatrice Touchelay

15 The quantification of the social sciences: an historical comparison 183
Alain Desrosières

http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-43999-0

The Social Sciences of Quantification
From Politics of Large Numbers to Target-Driven Policies
Bruno, I.; Jany-Catrice, F.; Touchelay, B. (Eds.)
2016, XI, 204 p., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-3-319-43999-0