

Contents

1	Introduction	1
	References.	5
2	Constitutionalism Beyond the State	7
2.1	Supranationality as a Womb of Post-Westphalian Deconstructions	7
2.2	The Complex Story of EU Constitutionalization.	9
2.3	The Democratic Arrangement of the Internal Functioning of the EU	11
2.4	Coven of Lawyers and Its Child—Emancipated and Dominant EU Law.	13
2.4.1	New Legal System Shaped by Judges and Lawyers	13
2.4.2	Autonomous Legal System	14
2.4.3	Dominant Legal System	18
2.5	‘Cerberus’ Guarding the Fundamental Rights.	29
2.5.1	Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union—Internal Pillar.	30
2.5.2	European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms—External Pillar	36
2.5.3	Unwritten General Principles—Eternal Pillar	38
2.5.4	Autopoietic Role of Fundamental Rights.	40
	References.	41
3	Shared Entitlement to Legitimate Violence in the EU and Its Theoretical Outcomes.	45
3.1	Heterarchy of Sovereigns	45
3.2	The Area of Darkness?	49
3.3	Sovereignty Still Matters, but It Is not the Same	49
	References.	51

4	Sovereignty Vis-à-Vis Moloch of European Integration	55
4.1	Two Perspectives on the Meaning of State Sovereignty	55
4.1.1	Static Perception	55
4.1.2	Dynamic Approach	57
4.1.3	Reshaped but Still Present—Preserving Sovereignty in the Ideal World of Concepts	60
	References.	63
5	Practical Sovereignty in a Real World—Relationship Between EU Law and National Law (The Czech Perspective).	65
5.1	Constitutional Limits of Normative Influence of EU Law	67
5.2	Constitutional Limits to the Indirect Effect of EU Law	72
	References.	76
6	State as a ‘Creator and Master’	79
6.1	To Be a ‘State-Like’ Does not Mean to Be a State	79
6.2	On the Masters of the Treaties and Beyond	80
6.3	The State Holds Its Destiny in Its Own Hands.	84
	References.	86
7	Conclusion	87

National Sovereignty in the European Union

View from the Czech Perspective

Hamulák, O.

2016, X, 89 p., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-45350-7