

Contents

Part I Introduction, Origins and Early Development

1	Introduction and Outline	3
1.1	The Title and Goals of the Book	3
1.2	Defining the Terms	6
1.3	Features of CPE.....	11
1.4	The Roles and Perspectives of the Writer	17
1.5	The Research Process Used	19
1.6	The Structure of the Book.....	20
	References.....	21
2	The Origins and Early Development of CPE	25
2.1	Searching for the Origins of CPE.....	25
2.2	Supplementary Activities Become CPE.....	31
2.3	The First CPE Events.....	35
2.4	The Limitations of the First Degree	36
2.5	Summary and Some Tentative Conclusions	39
	References.....	40

Part II CPE’s Development Viewed from Four Perspectives

3	Missed Opportunities in Relationships with Other Educational Sectors.....	45
3.1	Recurrent Education.....	45
3.2	Continuing Education, Adult Education in Higher Education.....	46
3.3	Three Surveys.....	48
3.4	Johnson-Hinton and the Discipline Reviews.....	50
3.5	On School Teachers.....	52
3.6	Changes in Higher Education.....	53
3.7	Adult Education in the States.....	54
3.8	The National Focus, Primarily on ACE.....	55

3.9	National Policy on ACE	57
3.10	On Missed Opportunities	59
	References	60
4	Mandatory Continuing Professional Education – Its Origin and Acceptance	63
4.1	Why the Professional Associations Became Involved	63
4.2	Their Experience with Universities	64
4.3	Their Experience as CPE Providers	67
4.4	CPE as Their Response to Criticism	68
4.5	The Associations Take Action	69
4.6	The Participation Issue Arises	70
4.7	About Voluntary and Mandatory CPE Participation	71
4.8	Research on the Policy Options	73
4.9	Two Early MCPE Adopters	77
	References	82
5	Mandatory Continuing Professional Education – Development and Extension	85
5.1	Assessing Participation – Hours and Points	85
5.2	Evidence of Participation	87
5.3	The Audit of the Process	88
5.4	Enforcing the Penalties	90
5.5	The Assessment Cycle	91
5.6	What Was ‘Acceptable’ for the MCPE Program?	91
5.7	From the Diary Page to the Log Book	93
5.8	Managing the MCPE Scheme	97
5.9	How MCPE Was Used by the Associations	98
5.10	Delayed Adoption and Acceptance	102
5.11	Summary and Conclusions	103
	References	104
6	Competencies – Concept, Criticism and Compromise	107
6.1	Differences MCPE and Competencies	107
6.2	Changes in the Context of Professional Practice	109
6.3	The Training Guarantee and Technical Education	110
6.4	The Concept of Competencies	113
6.5	Competencies and the Professions – NOOSR	114
6.6	Research on the Adoption of Competencies by Professions	115
6.7	Critiques of Competencies and CBT	119
6.8	From the Professional Associations	119
6.9	The Global Dimension	120
6.10	The Debate in Australia	121
6.11	Towards a Compromise	125
6.12	The Developed Competencies	129
	References	131

7	Competencies – Longer Term Use & Development	135
7.1	For Those Trained Overseas	135
7.2	For Domestic Entry Level Persons.....	136
7.3	For Those Re-entering the Profession.....	137
7.4	For Those Moving from One Profession to Another.....	138
7.5	For Current Practitioners.....	139
7.6	For Specialists	141
7.7	The Problem of Ethics in Professional Practice.....	146
7.8	Assessing the Broader and Longer Term Impact of Competencies	146
7.9	Looking Forward, Looking Back	152
	References.....	152
8	Regulation of the Professions.....	155
8.1	Regulation and Registration	155
8.2	Three Observations	156
8.3	The Foveaux System	158
8.4	Changing the Foveaux System.....	159
8.5	Towards National Regulation – In Health-Related Professions	160
8.6	Towards National Regulation – Veterinarians and the Legal Profession	166
8.7	Conclusions	169
	References.....	170

Part III The Contemporary Context for Professional Practice

9	Changes Impacting on Contemporary Professional Practice and CPE	175
9.1	Consumer Protection.....	176
9.2	Competition in the Professional Market Place.....	178
9.3	Dealing with Risk.....	181
9.4	The Global Dimension	184
9.5	A New Type of Compliance.....	187
9.6	The Ideological Context.....	188
9.7	In Conclusion	190
	References.....	190
10	Rounding Off the Tale of CPE – Six Themes	193
10.1	Theme – The Contribution of the Professional Associations.....	194
10.2	Theme – The Lack of Attention to Evaluation and Quality Assurance.....	195
10.3	Theme – The Non-educational Approach to New Technologies	198
10.4	Theme – The Failure to Recognise Developments About Learning.....	202

10.5	Theme – The Absence of a Comprehensive View of Professional Practice	208
10.6	Theme – The Impact of the New National Registration Scheme.....	212
10.7	Conclusion.....	214
	References	215
11	Rounding Off the Tale of CPE – Problems Areas and the Popular Picture.....	221
11.1	Two Unresolved Problem Areas.....	221
11.2	Ethics.....	221
11.3	Soft Skills	227
11.4	The Popular Picture and Related Problems.....	230
11.5	Conclusion.....	232
	References.....	232
 Part IV Seizing Opportunities for CPD
12	For CPD – Exploring Opportunities Not to Be Missed	237
12.1	The Popular Picture of CPD.....	237
12.2	Relationships with Other Sectors	238
12.3	Opportunities and Possible Responses.....	238
12.4	Proposed New Type of CPD Provision	239
12.5	Learning as the Focus for CPD	244
12.6	The Role of CPD Stake Holders with These Opportunities.....	249
12.7	The Professional Associations and These Opportunities	251
12.8	Yesterday, To-day and Tomorrow.....	253
	References.....	256

Continuing Professional Education in Australia
A Tale of Missed Opportunities

Brennan, B.

2016, XXI, 257 p. 12 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-981-10-1830-5