

Contents

1	Introduction: A New Government-Enterprise Relationship?	1
1.1	Government-Enterprise Connection and Private Enterprise Development: Research Background	2
1.2	Research Question, Contribution, and Significance.	5
1.3	Research Approach.	7
1.4	Contents and Structure	9
	References	10
2	Government, Enterprise, and Entrepreneur: Are These Relationships the Primary Productive Force?	11
2.1	Government–Enterprise Relationships.	12
2.2	Government, Enterprise, and Entrepreneur: Findings Based on Surveys	23
2.2.1	Entrepreneur Growth	24
2.2.2	Enterprise Decision-Making.	28
2.2.3	Government–Enterprise Relationship	29
2.2.4	Enterprises’ Social Networks and Political Connections	31
2.3	Conclusion	35
	References	36
3	Entrepreneur and Enterprise Development: Human Capital, Political Capital and Decision-Making Style	39
3.1	The Entrepreneur Returns to the Stage: Literature Review	40
3.2	Entrepreneur and Enterprise Development: Empirical Model and Data Description	44
3.3	Empirical Results	50
3.4	Conclusion	58
	References	59

4 Entrepreneur Political Participation: Building Government-Enterprise Connections	61
4.1 Background for Entrepreneurs' Political Participation	64
4.2 Data Description of Entrepreneurs' Political Participation	68
4.3 Determinants of Entrepreneurs' Political Participation	71
4.4 Conclusion	76
References	78
5 Entrepreneur Satisfaction: What Influence Does Government Intervention Have?	79
5.1 Rise of "Happiness Economics": What Do Economists Know?	80
5.1.1 Why Is the Study of Subjective Well-Being Important?	80
5.1.2 Is "Subjectivity" of Subjective Well-Being Serious?	82
5.1.3 What Do Economists Learn from the Empirical Study of Subjective Well-Being?	83
5.2 Data Description and Model of Entrepreneur Satisfaction	86
5.2.1 Distribution Characteristics of Subjective Well-Being	86
5.2.2 Description of Relationship Between Key Variables and Subjective Well-Being	88
5.2.3 Econometric Model	91
5.3 Determinants of Entrepreneur Satisfaction: Empirical Results	93
5.4 Correlation Between Entrepreneur Satisfaction and Mental Health	97
5.5 Conclusion	99
References	100
6 Present and Future of Government-Enterprise Relationship (Conclusion)	103
6.1 Interaction Between Government, Enterprise and Entrepreneur: What Do We Know?	103
6.2 How Can Chinese Private Enterprises Sustain Evergreen Development?	105
6.3 End of Transformation? Discussions on Politics and the Economy	108
References	115
Appendix A	117
Appendix B	141
Postscript	167

Government-Enterprise Connection
Entrepreneur and Private Enterprise Development in China

Lu, M.; Pan, H.

2016, VI, 168 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-981-287-657-7