

Contents

1	Introduction	1
	References	8
2	IFC Studies and the Politics of Finance	11
	Financial Sector Policy and Development	12
	International Financial Centres	16
	The Politics of Finance	21
	Conclusion	23
	References	24
3	Taking a Public Policy Theoretical Approach	31
	Policy Instruments and the Design Process	32
	Policy Subsystems	36
	Analytical Framework: The Nested Instrumental Approach	39
	Research Design and Methodology	45
	Case Study Method	46
	Qualitative Data	46
	Conclusion	48
	References	48
4	Hong Kong	53
	Determinants of Competitive Advantage	55
	Financial Governance	57
	Regulatory Regime	59
	Financial Policy Mix	61
	Financial Policy Subsystem	65
	Conclusion	70
	References	71

5	Singapore	75
	Sources of Competitive Advantage	79
	Financial Governance	81
	Regulatory Regime	82
	Financial Policy Mix	84
	Financial Policy Subsystem	88
	Conclusion	92
	References	93
6	Shanghai	97
	Determinants of Competitive Advantage	103
	Financial Governance	106
	Regulatory Regime	109
	Financial Policy Mix	110
	Financial Policy Subsystem	113
	Conclusion	116
	References	117
7	Comparisons and Analysis	121
	Comparative Advantages	123
	Financial Governance and Regulatory Agencies	125
	Financial Policy Mix	127
	Financial Policy Subsystem	128
	Application of the Nested Instrumental Approach	131
	Hong Kong	133
	Singapore	135
	Shanghai	137
	Conclusion	139
	References	140
8	Conclusions	141
	Summary of Findings	142
	Contributions to Literature and Theory	145
	Implications for Policy-Makers	146
	Going Forward	148
	References	148

<http://www.springer.com/978-981-287-983-7>

Business and Politics in Asia's Key Financial Centres

Hong Kong, Singapore and Shanghai

Woo, J.J.

2016, XIX, 149 p. 8 illus. in color., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-981-287-983-7