Contents

1 Business Ethics Are Not Working 1
1.1 Business Ethics and CSR Are on the Rise 4
1.2 Business Ethics Are Today's Order Winning Criteria 6
1.3 Why Is Progress in Business Ethics so Slow? 7
1.4 Structure of the Book 9
1.5 It's Leadership, Not Regulations and Process: Contributions to Management Science and Practice 10

2 The Implementation of Business Ethics Explored: 11 "Key Themes" or Building Blocks 13
2.1 Ethical Theory and Values 14
2.2 Sustainability: The "Triple Bottom Line" 14
2.3 Governance: Aiming at ESG Criteria 15
2.4 Responsibility and Society: Corporate Social Responsibility, Corporate Citizenship 17
2.5 Globalisation: Blessing or Curse? 19
2.6 Ethical Decision Making: Values, Facts and Ethical Dilemmas . . 20
2.7 Ethical Stakeholder Management 21
2.8 Ethical Treatment of Employees 22
2.9 Ethical Treatment of Customers, Consumers, and Clients 23
2.10 Ethical Treatment of Suppliers and Ethical Sourcing 24
2.11 Ethical Treatment of Competitors 25

3 Literature Review: The Evolution of Ethical Leadership 27
3.1 Introduction: Ethical Leadership: A Neglected Approach 29
3.1.1 Foundations and Perspectives of Ethics and Morale 31
3.1.2 Foundations of Integrity and Trust, or: Why Is Noone Researching Integrity and Trust? 37
3.2 The Evolution of Ethical Leadership Concepts 40

3.3 Embedding Ethical Leadership Concepts and Processes in Organisations . . . 43
3.3.1 Factoring in Operational Environment and Context . . . 44
3.3.2 Factoring in the Role of Corporate Culture . . . 45
3.3.3 Factoring in Real Transformational Change . . . 47
3.3.4 Embedding Ethical Leadership by Process . . . 51
3.3.5 Embedding Ethical Leadership by Leadership Behaviour: The Importance of Role Modelling . . . 53
3.3.6 Embedding Ethical Leadership by Establishing an Ethical Culture . . . 55
3.3.7 Embedding Ethical Leadership by Establishing an Ethical Climate . . . 56
3.4 The Neglected Role of the Middle Manager: The Influence of CEOs Is Highly Overrated . . . 58
3.5 Summary: Don't Write Rulebooks, Lead! . . . 60
3.6 Implications and Emergent Themes for the Research Agenda and the Research Questions . . . 61

4 Research Methodology and Methods . . . 65
4.1 Organisations Are Full of Multiple Truths . . . 66
4.2 The Research Ethics of Researching Perceived Leadership . . . 69
4.3 Development of Research Methods and Research Design . . . 71
4.3.1 Concepts of Measuring Ethical Leadership . . . 71
4.3.2 The Pilot Study and Results from the Field Tests . . . 77
4.4 Focus Groups Are Seriously Flawed . . . 81
4.5 A Better Kind of In-Depth Interviews . . . 82
4.6 The Concept of Inductive Categorisation . . . 85
4.7 Considerations on the Quality of Qualitative Research . . . 87
4.8 Limitations of the Chosen Research Design . . . 89

5 Research Data Collection and Analysis Framework . . . 93
5.1 Organisational Context of the Researched Company . . . 93
5.2 Ensuring Right Sample Size and High Quality . . . 95
5.3 In-Depth Interviews Validation of Issues and Narratives . . . 100
5.4 Data Coding . . . 101
5.5 Analysis Method Framework . . . 104

6 The Effects of Bad Leadership: Results and Findings from the Data . . . 107
6.1 Situational Context and Operational Governance . . . 108
6.2 Quality vs. Speed and New Product Development (NPD) . . . 111
6.3 Internal Competition . . . 113
6.4 Leadership Culture . . . 115
6.5 Favouritism and Nepotism . . . 119
6.6 Appreciation . . . 121
6.7 Integrity . . . 123

6.8 Trust . . . 125
6.9 Organisational Culture and Leadership Culture . . . 126
6.10 Corporate and Work Climate . . . 127
6.11 Team Spirit . . . 129
6.12 Employee Motivation . . . 130
6.13 Implications for Co-Operation . . . 132
6.14 Poor and Bad Leadership Makes Ill . . . 133
6.15 Summary . . . 137

7 Discussion of the Findings: The Absence of Unethical Leadership Is Already a Success . . . 141
7.1 Findings in the Light of the Literature Review Discussion . . . 142
7.1.1 Morale and Integrity . . . 143
7.1.2 The Evolution of Ethical Leadership . . . 144
7.1.3 Operational Context . . . 146
7.1.4 Transformational Change . . . 146
7.1.5 Process Implementation . . . 147
7.1.6 Changing Organisational Culture and Climate . . . 148
7.1.7 Role Modelling and the Role of Middle Managers . . . 149
7.2 Revisiting the Research Framework Model . . . 151
7.3 Emerging Issues from the Findings in Light of Recent Theory . . . 153

8 Conclusions and Implications of this Research Study . . . 159
8.1 Conclusions on the Research Questions . . . 159
8.2 Limitations of the Study . . . 163
8.3 Ethical Leadership Is the Driver to CSR Implementation: Contributions of this Study to Current Research and Knowledge . . . 165
8.4 Suggestions and Potential for Further Research . . . 167
8.5 Practical Implications: Middle Managers Are Essential: An Approach of Establishing an Ethical Leadership Climate . . . 168

About the Author . . . 171

Appendix: Interview Questions and Interviewing Process . . . 173

References . . . 185

http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-42941-0

Ethical Leadership in Organizations
Concepts and Implementation
Bachmann, B.
2017, XVII, 203 p. 22 illus., 1 illus. in color., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-3-319-42941-0