

Contents

1	Living in a Fearscape?	1
1.1	Object of Study and Objectives of the Book	3
1.2	Structure of the Book	5
1.3	Urban Space	7
1.4	Planning Space	8
1.5	Fear, Discourses of Fear and Urban Planning	10
1.6	Global Cities and ‘Ordinary Cities’ in Southern Europe	11
	References	14
2	Western Paradoxes of Security and Fear	19
2.1	Fear, Crime, Mass Media and Democracy	20
2.2	The Years of Fear Revisited: Italy and Portugal	31
2.3	Conclusions: Global Rhetoric Revisited	35
	References	36
3	Us and Them: Otherness and Exclusion	39
3.1	Public Space, Encounter and Difference in the Multicultural City	40
3.2	‘Us’ Versus the ‘Others’: The Politics of Exclusion	44
3.3	Conclusions: Learning from the Extreme	50
	References	51
4	Fearscapes: Urban Space and the Landscapes of Fear	55
4.1	Enclosure	57
4.2	Barrier	62
4.3	Post-Public Space	66
4.4	Control	72
4.5	Conclusions: Southern European Fearscapes	78
	References	81
5	Planning, Fear and Power	87
5.1	Modernist Space and the Encounter	88
5.2	Planning and the Political Economies of Fear	95

5.3	Conclusions (?): Fear Follows Form Follows Fear	105
5.4	Conclusions Revisited: Multiplexing Fear and Planning	106
5.5	A Critical Exploratory Framework for Fear in Urban Planning . . .	108
	References.	110
6	Thinking Future	115
6.1	Thinking Dystopia: Void	116
6.2	Thinking Change: Fear Not	120
6.3	Thinking Next: A Call for Action.	125
	References.	128

Fear, Space and Urban Planning

A Critical Perspective from Southern Europe

Tulumello, S.

2017, XIX, 131 p. 13 illus., 1 illus. in color., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-43936-5