

Contents

- 1 The Mysterious Discipline. . . . . 1
  - References. . . . . 6

- 2 The Characteristics of Systems Formation . . . . . 7
  - 2.1 Dynamics: Moving System Parts . . . . . 9
  - 2.2 Associations: Connections Between System Parts. . . . . 23
  - 2.3 Structure: All Parts and Associations in the System . . . . . 38
  - 2.4 Boundaries: How to Define the System . . . . . 58
  - 2.5 Interactions: How the System Behaves. . . . . 69
  - 2.6 Quality: Measuring the System. . . . . 79
  - 2.7 Integration: System of Systems. . . . . 94
  - References. . . . . 98

- 3 The Characteristics of Systems Breakdown. . . . . 103
  - 3.1 Conflict: The Intent to Damage . . . . . 105
  - 3.2 Growth: The Unintended Damages. . . . . 117
  - 3.3 Decay: The Unavoidable Breakdown . . . . . 129
  - 3.4 Obsolescence: The Planned Breakdown . . . . . 138
  - 3.5 Stress: The Silent Destroyer . . . . . 147
  - 3.6 Assimilation: The System that Is no More . . . . . 155
  - 3.7 Flaws: The Poorly Formed System. . . . . 164
  - References. . . . . 174

- 4 The Systems Analyst. . . . . 177

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-44029-3>

How Systems Form and How Systems Break

A Beginner's Guide for Studying the World

Ren, C.H.

2017, XII, 179 p. 47 illus., 1 illus. in color., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-44029-3