

Contents

1	Introduction	1
	Artful Research and Ways of Being: Opening the Space	1
	Body Mapping	3
	Ethical Issues in Arts-Based Research	5
	Chapter Overview and Format	7
	References	9
2	Project Overview and Insights About Body Mapping	23
	The Anatomy of Adherence Project	23
	Adherence, Gender, and the Body: An Overview of the Literature	24
	Methodology	25
	Analysis	28
	Knowledge Translation	29
	Locating Our Participants	30
	Participants' Perspectives on Body Mapping	31
	Women	31
	Men	33
	Locating Myself	35
	Discussion	36
	References	38
3	The Forest and the Trees: Pushing the Analytical Envelope	41
	Analytical Issues in Arts-Based Research	41
	Ethnographic Insights: The "Axial Embodiment"
	Approach and Key Findings	44
	The Enumerated Findings: A Gendered Analysis	48
	Content Analysis	49

On Map.	50
On Body	51
On Support Figure	51
Interpretive Insights of the Participants	51
Women	51
Men	53
Key Study Themes: HIV and HIV Medications	54
HIV/AIDS.	54
HIV Medications.	56
Women	56
Men	58
Discussion.	59
References.	61
4 To Change and Be Changed: Transformative Research
Experiences	65
Exploring the Embodied, Political, and Aesthetic Dimensions of Transformative Research.	65
Ethnographic Insights: Transformation Through the Eyes of Our Participants	68
Therapeutic	68
Self-transformative	70
Socially Transformative.	73
Transforming Therapeutic Relationships and the Politics of HIV/AIDS Research	74
Transformation Through the Eyes of the Researcher.	76
Discussion.	79
References.	81
5 Between a Method and a Hard Place: Cultural Appropriation and Body Mapping	85
Cultural Appropriation in Body Mapping Research.	85
Ethnographic Insights: Staying Close to the Source	88
Culture	89
Sexuality	91
Addictions.	91
Trauma	93
‘Real’ Time and Space: Insights to Consider When Doing Body Mapping Work	94
Preparatory Considerations	94
In Situ Considerations.	95
Compassionate, Patient Facilitators Who Work Well Together	96

Recognizing How Much It Takes for Participants to Show up and to Finish	96
Follow the Therapeutic Format	97
Innovative Approaches to Knowledge Translation	99
Discussion.	100
References.	102
Index	105

Remembering the Body

Ethical Issues in Body Mapping Research

Orchard, T.

2017, XIX, 105 p. 2 illus., 1 illus. in color., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-49860-7