

CONTENTS

1	Introduction: The Second Generation in Contemporary Argentina	1
1.1	The Return of Politics	5
1.2	The Postmemory Generation	12
1.3	Los rubios and the Structure of the Book	19
	References	28
2	The Copyright Generation: Historical Memory and the Children of the Disappeared	33
2.1	Part One: Soy un bravo piloto and the Limits of Autofiction	36
2.2	Part Two: Bringing Memory Home: Historical Memory and El espíritu de mis padres	55
2.3	Conclusion: Postmemorial F(r)ictions	73
	References	78
3	‘HIJOS de una misma historia’: Identity Politics and Parody in the Kirchner Era	81
3.1	Part One: Traitors, Torturers and Transvestites: Subverting the Political Family in Los topos	83
3.2	Conclusion	104

3.3	Part Two: A Disneyland of Human Rights: The Language of Parody in Diario de una Princesa Montonera	105
3.4	Conclusion: Politicised Mourning, Parodic Memory	125
	References	129
4	Hijos guerrilleros: Childhood Militancy and Cinematic Memory	133
4.1	Part One: Militancy, Memory and Make-Believe: Politicising Childhood in Infancia clandestina	135
4.2	Part Two: Domestic Politics and Prosthetic Memory in El premio	157
4.3	Conclusion: Spectacular Childhoods	176
	References	179
5	Performing Loss: Materiality and the Repertoire of Absence	183
5.1	Part One: Materiality and the Archive in Contemporary Argentine Photography	186
5.2	Part Two: Performing the Archive in Mi vida después	213
5.3	Conclusion: Beyond Archive Fever	232
	References	236
6	Conclusion: The Politics of Postmemory	241
	References	250
	Index	253

The Politics of Postmemory
Violence and Victimhood in Contemporary Argentine Culture

Maguire, G.

2017, XI, 257 p. 23 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-51604-2