

CONTENTS

1	Introduction	1
	Margu�rite Corporaal and Christina Morin
 Part I Exploring the Continent: Traveling Irish
2	Travel Literature and Traveling Irishness: An Italian Case Study	15
	Anne O'Connor
3	Mabel Sharman Crawford's Life in Tuscany: Ulster Radicalism in a Hot Climate	35
	Peter Gray
4	On the Specificity of Irish Travel Writing in the Nineteenth Century: Maria Frances Dickson's Journeys to the Continent and Kilkee	51
	Joachim Fischer

Part II Traveling Genres, Movements, and Forms

- 5 William Orpen (1878–1931): A Voice for Pluralism in the Long Nineteenth Century 81
Anne Cormican
- 6 Traveling Cabins: The Popularity of Irish Local-Color Fiction in Early Nineteenth-Century Europe 103
Marguérite Corporaal
- 7 Traveling Irishness and the Transnational James Connolly 119
Peter D. O'Neill

Part III Representations of Traveling

- 8 He Should Go to the Théâtre François: Paris, the Theater, and Maria Edgeworth's Ormond 141
Matthew L. Reznicek
- 9 Getting Back to Ireland: Charles Lever's Soldiers of Fortune, Tourists, and Irishmen in Reverse 163
Jim Shanahan

Part IV Experiencing Migration

- 10 Irish Gothic Goes Abroad: Cultural Migration, Materiality, and the Minerva Press 185
Christina Morin
- 11 Reading the Fenian Romance: Irish-American and Irish-Canadian Versions of the National Tale 205
Jason King

12 A Cork Scribe in Victorian London	225
Meidhbhín Ní Úrdail
Index	247

Traveling Irishness in the Long Nineteenth Century

Corporaal, M.; Morin, C. (Eds.)

2017, XV, 258 p. 5 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-52526-6