

Contents

Introduction	1
Ursula Backhaus, Günther Chaloupek and Hans A. Frambach
An Economist's View of the Work of Wilhelm Emmanuel von Ketteler and Its Influence on the Encyclical Rerum novarum	11
Daniel Eissrich
Solidarism as the Center of Economy—The Economics of Heinrich Pesch	27
Hans A. Frambach
Public Economy (“Gemeinwirtschaft”) as a Concept of Social Development Policy—Examples of German Authors of the Late 19th Century	47
Karl-Heinz Schmidt
Lord Acton and Rerum novarum	59
Frits L. van Holthoon
The False Pretensions of the Catholic Social Doctrine—The Critique of the Catholic Austrian Sociologist August M. Knoll (1900–1963)	69
Günther Chaloupek
125 Years Rerum novarum—The Theological Perspective	81
Peter Schallenberg
Dr. Johannes Antonius Veraart: A Catholic Economist on Rerum Novarum	89
Robert W.J. Jansen
The Roman Connection: From Rerum Novarum to Corporatism in the Netherlands	107
Andries Nentjes

The Justice and the Economics of Rerum novarum on Land	125
Nicolaus Tideman
Rerum novarum and Its Principle on the Just Taxation of Immovable Properties	135
Francesco Forte, Flavio Felice and Elton Beqiraj
Practical Wisdom for Social Innovation. How Christian Entrepreneurs Triggered the Emergence of the Catholic Social Tradition in Europe	167
André Habisch

On the Economic Significance of the Catholic Social Doctrine

125 Years of Rerum Novarum

Backhaus, J.; Chaloupek, G.; Frambach, H. (Eds.)

2017, VI, 190 p. 18 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-52544-0