

Contents

- 1 Introduction 1
 - 1.1 Purposes and Limitations of the Present Project 1
 - 1.2 Research Methods 3
 - 1.3 Conceptualizing Lawrenceville’s Artistic Enclave 6
 - References 11
- 2 Florida’s Creative Class Thesis 13
 - 2.1 Defining the Creative Class 13
 - 2.2 Florida’s Creative Class Thesis 14
 - 2.3 Critical Reactions to Florida’s Work 15
 - 2.4 My Critique of Florida’s Work 19
 - References 21
- 3 The Larger Urban Context 23
 - 3.1 Pittsburgh: From Industrial to Postindustrial 23
 - 3.2 Pittsburgh’s Creative Class 24
 - 3.3 The Pittsburgh Artist 27
 - References 30
- 4 Bohemia: Introduction and Classic Prototypes 31
 - 4.1 Introduction 31
 - 4.2 The Dawn of Bohemia 34
 - 4.3 Political Hopelessness and Bohemian Ambivalence 37
 - 4.4 The Parisian Avant-Garde 39
 - 4.5 Greenwich Village: America’s Classic Bohemia 40
 - References 46

5	The Growing Integration of Bourgeois and Bohemian Culture	49
5.1	The Embrace of Bohemian Culture by the Middle Class	49
5.2	Bobo's in Paradise	51
5.3	The Big Morph	52
	References	54
6	Lawrenceville's Artistic Enclave	57
6.1	The Research Site: Geography, History, and Neighborhood Change	57
6.1.1	Reactions of Long-Time Residents	59
6.2	Creative Class Collaboration	61
6.2.1	Creative Class Collaboration at Art All Night	63
6.3	Maintaining a Sustainable Artistic Enclave	66
6.3.1	Securing Sustainable Space	66
6.3.2	Integrating Art and Commerce	68
6.3.3	Maintaining Sustainable Alternative Art Galleries	69
6.3.4	Maintaining a Sustainable Artistic Creative Class Scene	73
6.4	Long-Term Sustainability	77
6.5	Is Lawrenceville Bohemian: Views from the Community	77
6.6	An Artistic Creative Class Enclave	79
	References	80
7	An Alternative to the Dominant Academic Narrative	81
7.1	The Dominant Academic Narrative	81
7.1.1	An Alternative Narrative	86
7.2	Artistic Enclaves in the Post-industrial City: Lawrenceville's Artistic Creative Class Enclave Versus Related Community Types	86
	References	91
8	Summary and Conclusion	93
8.1	A Brief Summary	93
8.2	Is Lawrenceville's Artistic Creative Class Enclave a Pittsburgh Anomaly?	95
8.3	The Artistic Creative Class Enclave Hypothesis	96
8.4	Suggestions for Public Policy	97
8.5	Two Cheers for the Artistic Creative Class Enclave	100
	References	101
	Appendix	103

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-55262-0>

Artistic Enclaves in the Post-Industrial City
A Case Study of Lawrenceville Pittsburgh
Moss, G.

2017, XIV, 110 p. 16 illus., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-55262-0