Part I Uncertainty in Economic Thought

2 Uncertainty in the History of Economic Thought . . . . . 17
2.1 The Uncertain Fundament of Economics . . . . . 18
2.2 The Marginal Revolution and Probabilistic Utility Maximization . . . . . 22
2.3 From Reason to Rational Choice Theory . . . . . 24
2.4 Separating Uncertainty . . . . . 27
2.5 Subjective Probability Theory and Uncertainty . . . . . 31
2.6 The Janus-Face of Uncertainty in Economics . . . . . 34
References . . . . . 35

3 Truth, Probability and Uncertainty . . . . . 39
3.1 The Changing Meanings of Probability . . . . . 39
3.2 Probabelism, Credibility and the Formalization of Science . . . 41
3.3 The Problem of Induction . . . . . 44
3.4 Conclusion . . . . . 46
References . . . . . 47

4 The Principles of Economics . . . . . 49
4.1 Becoming the Science of Economics . . . . . 50
4.2 Rationality and Prediction . . . . . 54
4.3 Econometrics . . . . . 56
4.4 The Principles of Modern Economics . . . . . 58
4.5 Conclusion . . . . . 60

Part II Philosophies of Uncertainty

6 The Origin of Profit . . . . . 97
6.1 Uncertainty and Profit . . . . . 99
6.2 Uncertainty, Knowledge and Probability . . . . . 101
6.3 Uncertainty, Change and Instability . . . . . 105
6.4 Conclusion . . . . . 106
References . . . . . 107

7 Uncertainty and Economic Instability . . . . . 109
7.1 Knowledge and Ignorance . . . . . 110
7.2 Uncertainty and Reason . . . . . 113
7.2.1 Conventional Knowledge . . . . . 114
7.2.2 Animal Spirits . . . . . 115
7.2.3 A Keynesian Model of Choice Under Conditions of Uncertainty . . . . . 117
7.3 Uncertainty, Instability and Science . . . . . 119
7.4 Conclusion . . . . . 121
References . . . . . 122

8 The Division of Knowledge and Unknowledge . . . . . 125
8.1 The Nature of the Economic Problem . . . . . 126
8.2 Epistemology . . . . . 128
8.3 Uncertainty and the Price Mechanism . . . . . 130
8.4 Economics, Unknowledge and Surprise . . . . . 131
8.5 Surprise and the Non-Numerical Theory of Uncertainty . . . . . 134
8.6 Conclusion . . . . . 136
References . . . . . 137

9 The Nature of Economics . . . . . 139
9.1 Realism and Ontology . . . . . 140
9.2 Open and Closed Systems . . . . . 141

9.2.1 Critical Realism, Systems and Explanation . . . . . 143
9.2.2 Structure and Dialectic . . . . . 144
9.2.3 Degrees of Uncertainty . . . . . 145
9.3 Non-randomness, Performativity and Uncertainty . . . . . 146
9.4 Conclusion . . . . . 152
References . . . . . 152

Part III Methodology of Uncertainty

10 Extending the Boundaries of Economics . . . . . 157
10.1 Ontological Foundations of a New Philosophy of Economics . . . . . 159
10.2 A Reflexive System and Fallibility . . . . . 160
10.3 Levels of Reflexivity . . . . . 163
10.3.1 First Order Reflexivity . . . . . 164
10.3.2 Second Order Reflexivity and the Structure of Events . . . . . 165
10.3.3 Third Order Reflexivity . . . . . 166
10.3.4 Complexity . . . . . 167
10.4 The Uncertainty Corridor . . . . . 168
10.5 Epistemological Implications for the Science of Economics . . . 171
10.6 Conclusion . . . . . 175
References . . . . . 175

11 Uncertainty and Fiction . . . . . 177
11.1 The Co-emergence of Fiction and Probability . . . . . 177
11.2 Uncertainty and Fiction in Economics . . . . . 181
11.2.1 Fictions and Knowledge . . . . . 181
11.2.2 Fictions and Understanding . . . . . 182
11.2.3 Fictions, Future and Action . . . . . 183
11.3 Fictional Choice . . . . . 184
11.3.1 Knowledge . . . . . 185
11.3.2 Fictions . . . . . 186
11.3.3 Intentions and Biases . . . . . 187
11.3.4 Weight of the Argument . . . . . 187
11.3.5 Dynamics . . . . . 188
11.3.6 The Process of Choice . . . . . 188
11.4 Conclusion . . . . . 190
References . . . . . 190

12 Human After All . . . . . 193
12.1 Pluralism . . . . . 195
12.2 Humanism . . . . . 196
12.3 Normativity . . . . . 197
