

Contents

1	Astronomy Education Research in the Planetarium	1
	References	25
2	Overview of Planetarium Education Research Methods	29
	Ethical Guidelines for Education Research	35
	Control Group Design	38
	Validity and Reliability	39
	Bloom’s Taxonomy	42
	Learning Environments	44
	Population	44
	Objectives and Assessment	45
	Informal Setting	46
	Formal Setting	46
	Planetariums as a Formal Environment	47
	Quantitative Methods	48
	The t -Test	49
	Qualitative Methods	49
	References	51
3	Learning Research in the Planetarium Prior to 1990	53
	1960’s Research	54
	Research in the Great Lakes Region	57
	Student Achievement Research	59
	Reed’s Research—1970s	61
	Asking the Right Questions	61
	Need for Standard Instruments	62
	The Planetarium Environment	63
	Interactive Versus Lecture-Based Comparison	64
	Stronger Evidence in 1980s	65
	Bishop’s Research	66

Active Participatory Learning	68
Progress—the First Thirty Years	70
References.	71
4 Learning Research in the Planetarium After 1990	75
Paradigm Shifts	75
Portable Planetariums	77
Desktop Planetarium Software	79
Hands-on Activities in the Dome	81
Multiple Intelligences	83
Invoking Education Research in Planetariums	85
Unintended Distractions	87
The Field Trip	88
Research in Museum Settings	89
Unraveling the Measured Impact.	91
A Turkish Study	91
The Dome Versus Desktop Planetarium	92
Impact of Color in Cosmology	93
The 3D Stereoscopic View	94
More Case Studies	95
The Digital Planetarium Impact.	96
References.	97
5 Affective Domain Research in the Planetarium	101
Attitude	102
Education and Emotion	103
Audience Selection	104
Agents of Change	105
Assessing Impact.	106
Changing Attitudes	107
Electronic Response Devices Aid Surveys	108
High Value Visits	110
Mallon's 1980 Survey	111
After the 1980s' Hiatus.	111
The Portable Theater.	113
Reassessing the Research Instruments	115
New Directions	116
South African Mixed-Methods Study	118
Digital Theaters and New Research	119
Conclusion	122
References.	123
6 Epilogue	127
Index	129

Research on Teaching Astronomy in the Planetarium

Slater, T.F.; Tatge, C.

2017, VI, 131 p. 28 illus., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-57200-0