

Contents

Part I Introduction

1	The Lack of Interest for Seaports in the International Law and Doctrine	3
	References.	5
2	The Port and the International Law in General: A Land Appendix	9
	References.	13
3	The Port and the Law of the Sea: An Accessory to the Waters	15
	References.	17

Part II The Pre-industrial Port

4	Paolo Sarpi's Legal Doctrine	21
	References.	22
5	The Colonial Factories	23
	References.	27

Part III The Industrial Port

6	The Longshoremen's Organizations	31
	References.	32
7	The 1923 Geneva Convention on Seaports	33
	References.	35
8	The Forgotten Ports and Port Installations: Lotus Case, Wimbledon Case, Suez Crisis	37
	References.	41

9	When You are Forced to Remember the Port: The Laws of Wars from the Hague Conventions to the Cuban Crisis	43
	References.	46
10	The Mar del Plata Convention	49
	References.	51
11	The Montego Bay Convention	53
	References.	57

Part IV The Port of Globalization

12	An Unprecedented Economic Significance and the Ascendance of the Multinational Terminal Operators	63
	References.	65
13	The Decline of the Longshoremen's Organizations and Their Resistance in Europe	67
	References.	70
14	Flags of Convenience and Port State Control	73
	References.	80
15	Port Security: The Dubai Ports World Case and the ISPS Code	83
	References.	87
16	From the Traditional to the Multimodal Seaport: The Right to Access	89
	References.	92
17	Seaports in International Commercial Law	95
	References.	98

Part V Assessment and Perspectives

18	Common Features in the International Regulation of Seaports	103
	References.	106
19	A Contribution from Private International Law and Some Municipal Legal Orders	107
	References.	109
20	Starting from a Unitary Notion of Port	111
	References.	113

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-60395-7>

Seaports in International Law

Casagrande, M.

2017, VI, 114 p., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-60395-7