

CONTENTS

1	Varieties of Embodiment and ‘Corporeal Style’ Emma Rees	1
2	Edith Wharton: An Heiress to Gay Male Sexual Radicalism? Naomi Wolf	17
3	Losing Face Among the Natives: ‘Something About Tattooing and Tabooing’ in Melville’s Typee Graham Atkin	35
4	What the Body Tells Us: Transgender Strategies, Beauty, and Self-consciousness Marzia Mauriello	55
5	Tattoos: An Embodiment of Desire Nina Nyman	75
6	Learning Womanhood: Body Modification, Girls and Identity Abigail Tazzyman	95

7	The Construction of a Personal Norm of Physical and Psychological ‘Well-Being’ in Female Discourse Maria Krebber	115
8	No Body, No Crime? (Representations of) Sexual Violence Online Jemma Tosh	137
9	Heteronormativity as a Painful Script: How Women with Vulvar Pain (re)Negotiate Sexual Practice Renita Sörensdotter	163
10	Queer Wounds: Writing Autobiography Past the Limits of Language Quinn Eades	183
11	The Trouble with Body Image: The Need for a Better Corporeal Vocabulary Melisa Trujillo	203
	Index	227

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-63777-8>

Talking Bodies

Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Embodiment, Gender and Identity

Rees, E. (Ed.)

2017, XIII, 233 p. 3 illus., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-63777-8