

Preface

First, I would like to express my sincere thanks to my advisor Professor Thorsten M. Kühlmann who provided this research opportunity, gave guidance through the years of research, and made me feel a part of his team. He stimulated the research sense in me and offered me constructive and encouraging feedback. I would also like to thank Professor Werner Fees for recruiting me for this journey and inviting me as a guest speaker over many years.

Additionally, I would like to thank the many companies and inpatriates who made this study possible through their input. I am glad that I had the opportunity to return some of the knowledge, either through individual presentations or my contribution to the conference on international assignments and global mobility.

Finally, yet importantly, I would like to thank my family for supporting my scientific endeavor. My parents have opened the world of education and business to me and encouraged the striving for achievement. Thank you for your love and support. Many thanks go also to my partner, a medical scientist, who showed understanding for my work on the thesis. I am thankful for my son for giving me a lot of happiness on this journey. I believe he showed a strong research interest from the very first moment he opened his eyes.

Dr. Wilhelm Griga

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-658-18828-3>

Managing Inpatriation

Making Assignments More Effective

Griga, W.

2017, XVII, 215 p. 19 illus., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-658-18828-3