

Contents

PART I: Introduction, Study Design, and Theory

1	Novelty and Technological Objects	15
1.1	Introducing the RBO Hand and Mirage	20
1.1.1	The RBO Hand and the Development of Robotic Hands	21
1.1.2	Mirage and the Advent of Technologies in Art	25
1.2	Study Design I: Shaking off Taken-for-Granted Labels	30
1.3	Theoretical Perspectives: Invention, Differential Pattern, or Biographical Passage	31
1.3.1	Novelty as Invention	32
1.3.2	Novelty as Differential Pattern	37
1.3.3	Novelty as Biographical Passage	42
1.4	Toward Novelty as Articulation	48
1.4.1	Articulation	50
1.4.2	Figures	54
1.4.3	Technicity	58
1.4.4	Enactment	62
1.5	Study Design II: Abstraction, Critique, and Comparison as Method	64
1.6	Overview of the Study	67

PART II: Analysis: Three Articulations of Novelty

2	Identity: How Loose Elements are Connected	73
2.1	Enacting the Past through Stories and Their Tangible Traces	75
2.1.1	Stories of Deviation	75

2.1.2	Material Traces .....	78
2.2	Enacting Potentials through Figures, Prototypes, and Bodies .....	83
2.2.1	Ideas and Their Figures .....	83
2.2.2	Embodying Material Potentials .....	88
2.2.3	The Bodily Rendering of Future Objects .....	90
2.3	Articulating an Object Identity .....	95
2.3.1	Four Articulations of Ideas .....	95
2.3.2	Object Identities .....	97
2.3.3	Novelty as Object Identity .....	104
3	Form: How Materials Become Effective .....	107
3.1	Formats and Their Technical Features .....	111
3.1.1	Technical Features of Robotic Hands .....	112
3.1.2	Technical Features of Cybernetic Machines .....	115
3.1.3	Formats and Their Core Functionalities .....	118
3.2	Hybrid Constellations, Inquiries, and Distributed Agency .....	119
3.2.1	Robotics Infrastructure and “Everyday Life” in the Laboratory ....	120
3.2.2	Anticipated Conditions and Inquiries with Open Hardware in the Studio .....	124
3.2.3	Distributed Agency .....	128
3.3	Assembling Technical Forms .....	130
3.3.1	Embodiment as Epistemic and Artistic Stance .....	131
3.3.2	Materials and Manufacturing Method .....	134
3.3.3	Kinematic Architectures .....	139
3.3.4	Actuation .....	141
3.3.5	Sensors and Input Signals .....	144
3.3.6	Converters .....	146
3.3.7	Outputs .....	148
3.4	Articulating Novelty through Technical Forms .....	154
3.5	Excursus: Two Techno-Aesthetics .....	158

4	Difference: How Categories are Valorized .....	161
4.1	Discursive Practices.....	166
4.1.1	Conferences, Festivals, and Galleries .....	166
4.1.2	Journals, Books, and Catalogues .....	168
4.1.3	Graphs, Models, and Technical Drawings.....	168
4.1.4	Images, Videos, and Visual Codes .....	169
4.2	Translating Events into Other Entities.....	173
4.2.1	The RBO Hand: Translating Events into Charts and Pictures .....	173
4.2.2	Mirage : Translating events into Drawings, Pictures, and Video ...	178
4.2.3	Stabilizing, Concealing, and Travelling of Relations .....	183
4.3	Referencing by the Authors.....	184
4.3.1	Referencing the RBO Hand.....	185
4.3.2	Referencing Mirage .....	192
4.3.3	Conceptual, Figurative, and Associative References.....	197
4.4	Referencing by the Archive.....	198
4.4.1	The RBO Hand in Citations, Awards, and Online Newspapers ....	199
4.4.2	Mirage in its Exhibition, Online Articles, and Prizes .....	206
4.4.3	Passage Points, Selected Elements, and Dynamic Practices.....	213
4.5	Articulating Difference as Novelty.....	214

PART III: Discussion and Conclusions

5	The Aesthetic Reflexivity of Material Practice.....	221
5.1	Which Reflexivity?.....	222
5.2	The Indexicality of Referencing .....	224
5.3	Aesthetic Reflexivity and Materiality.....	226
5.4	From Symbols to Allegories of Technology.....	228
6	Articulating Novelty .....	233
6.1	Individuating and Relating Objects through Identity, Form, and Difference .....	234

6.1.1	Novelty as Individuation and Relation .....	234
6.1.2	Identity.....	235
6.1.3	Form .....	237
6.1.4	Difference .....	239
6.2	Articulations: (Differently) Connected Figures, Technicity, and Enactments.....	242
6.3	Outlook .....	246
References.....		249

The appendix to this book is freely available to download at the author's product site at springer.com.

Articulating Novelty in Science and Art
The Comparative Technography of a Robotic Hand and a Media Art Installation

Stubbe, J.

2017, XII, 245 p. 30 illus., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-658-18978-5