

Contents

1	Impunity and Sexual Assassination in Ciudad Juárez:
	Exclusion, Cruising, Collusion	1
1.1	Introduction	1
1.2	Feminicide and Impunity in Ciudad Juárez	6
1.2.1	Feminicide, Industrialization and Globalization in Ciudad Juárez	6
1.2.2	Impunity, Feminicide and the Criminal Justice System in Juárez	8
1.2.3	Forced Abduction and Impunity in the Historical Center in the Context of the “Drug War”	10
1.3	The Centrality of Sexual Assault in Sexual Assassination	11
1.3.1	Definitions and Centrality: A Contentious Terrain?	11
1.3.2	Sexual Assassinations as Premeditated Abduction-Rape Crimes	12
1.4	Sexual Assassinations, Disappearances and “Place”	13
1.4.1	Spatial Segregation or Exclusion and Feminicide in Juárez	13
1.4.2	Human Trafficking Disappearances and Impunity in the Historical Center	15
1.4.3	The Importance of “Public Space” for Sexual Assassination	15
1.4.4	A Spatial Analysis of Abduction Zones	16
	Appendix	17
	References	18
2	“Dangerous Streets”: Sexual Assassination, Impunity and Industrial Zones in Ciudad Juárez	25
2.1	Introduction	25
2.2	Rape, Sexual Assassination and Impunity	26
2.2.1	Rape as an End in and of Itself	26
2.2.2	Impunity Facilitates Sexual Assassination	27

2.2.3	Sexual Assassination not Randomly Distributed in the City	29
2.2.4	Not Everyone Equally at Risk Even in Industrial Zones	30
2.3	City Zones and Everyday Social Activities.	36
2.3.1	The Spatial Analysis of Sexual Assassination	36
2.4	Lethal Walks to and from Work and School in the Poniente, not Routine Interactions	37
2.4.1	Inside the Poniente in the 1990s: A Clustering of Abductions in the Gema, Juárez and Industrial Triangle in the 1990s	37
2.4.2	Impunity, in and Around Public Schools and Police Stations	39
2.4.3	Further South Down the Railroad Tracks in the Poniente	42
2.4.4	Parque Industrial Azteca and Argelia Salazar Crispin's Lethal Walk to Work	42
2.4.5	Janus-Faced Policies Within the Criminal Justice System Fuel Repetitive Sexual Assassination at the Neighborhood Level	44
2.4.6	More Deadly Pedestrian Short-Cuts Along the Railroad Land Corridor in the Northgate Industrial Area.	46
2.4.7	Daylight Public Abduction Locations in the Poniente Over Time.	48
2.5	More Deadly Pedestrian Commutes and Blitz Auto Attacks in the South/South-East	50
2.5.1	Sexual Assassination Further Down the Railroad Tracks	50
2.5.2	The Electrolux Area: A Mini-Hot Spot at the South-Eastern Edge of the City	54
2.5.3	Blitz Auto Attacks not Social Disintegration of the Family in the South and South-East	56
2.6	Repeat Offenders in Dense Urban Contexts: School Playgrounds and Maquila Bosses at the Border	58
2.6.1	Deadly School Playgrounds and Repeat Offenders	59
2.6.2	Maquila Boss Suspects at the Border and Obstruction of Justice by Evasion	61
2.7	Discussion	64
2.7.1	Poniente, Southern and Border Industrial Areas as Concentrated Sexual Assassination Zones.	64
2.7.2	It Is also About Place	65
2.7.3	Overlap of the Lack of Public/Private Security, Lack of Vetting of Security Personnel and Accountability for Sexual Violence	67

2.7.4	No [Wo]man's Land: Ambiguous Responsibility for Security	69
2.8	Conclusion	70
	Appendix	73
	References.	82
3	Disappearances as Forced Abductions in Ciudad Juárez.	89
3.1	Introduction	89
3.2	Human Trafficking and Sexual Assassination: Forced Abductions as Commodified Acts.	90
3.2.1	Commodification and Femicide in Ciudad Juárez.	90
3.2.2	Impunity and "Gaps" in the Rule of Law	91
3.2.3	The Historical Center in Context.	96
3.2.4	The Poniente, South and South-East	97
3.3	Methods	99
3.4	The Historical Center	101
3.4.1	Unorganized Crime: Auto and Bus Abductions from the Historical Center of the City (1993–2013)	101
3.4.2	Organized Crime and Lure Abductions: The Valle de Juarez Human Trafficking Prosecution (2013–2014).	104
3.4.3	Confidence Assaults	106
3.4.4	Use of Physical Violence: Human Trafficking as Forced Abduction	108
3.4.5	HT and Municipal Police Passivity, Acquiescence and Protection	109
3.4.6	HT and the Vanishing of Higher-Level Detainees.	110
3.4.7	Mapping Disappearances by Streets in the Historical Center	112
3.5	South, South-East and Poniente as Disappearance Hot Spots	116
3.5.1	Diffuse Human Trafficking in South-East, South and Poniente or Linked to Historical Center?	116
3.5.2	Hot Spots and School Environs.	119
3.6	Discussion	121
3.6.1	Patriarchy and Coercion in Forced Abductions	121
3.6.2	Types of Official Corruption, Scale and Bribe Estimates	123
3.7	"Push-Pull" Public Security Strategies to Combat Disappearances in Ciudad Juárez	126
3.7.1	High-Risk Zones and Extra Vigilance Plans	126
3.7.2	The Bureaucratic Vicissitudes of Security Cameras (2005–2009)	127
3.7.3	Sweeps, not Security Cameras in the Historical Center.	128
3.7.4	Not Enough Budget Allocated for Prevention (2013–2014)	131

3.7.5	Amber Alert/Protocol Alba	133
3.7.6	Crime-Control Theatre?	135
3.7.7	New Developments (2014)	137
3.7.8	The Credibility Gap	139
3.8	Commodification and a Bi-modal Distribution of Gender-Based Disappearances in Juárez	140
3.8.1	The Historical Center and the Southern Drift of Hot Spots	140
3.8.2	Reducing “Gaps” in the Rule of Law?	143
3.9	Conclusion	146
	Appendix 1: Officially Registered Disappearance Report, 2000–2014	148
	Appendix 2: “Protocol Alba: Searches North Zone–Women, Boys and Lost Girls (2014)”	150
	Appendix 3: “Updated Information on Cases of Missing Women”	152
	References.	153
4	Conclusion	161
	References.	165

Sexual Homicide of Women on the U.S.-Mexican Border

Schatz, S.

2017, XX, 166 p. 24 illus., 21 illus. in color., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-94-024-0937-6