

Contents

1 Migration of Labour in the Global South: An Introduction	1
Linking Migration Causes to Migration Outcomes	5
Conceptualizing Migration as a Social Process	9
Researching Bangladeshi Migration	13
Research Methodology	19
Fieldwork in Singapore	20
Fieldwork in Bangladesh	21
Structure of the Book	23
2 Immigration and Integration Policy in Singapore	27
Immigration Research in Singapore	28
Nature of Immigration Policy	31
Broader Features of Immigration Policy in Singapore	32
Classes of Non-resident Foreign Manpower in Singapore	38
Employment Pass (EP) and Special (S) Pass for Professional and Skilled Foreign Manpower	41
Work Permit (WP) for Semi-skilled Foreign Manpower	42
Administrative and Legal Frameworks for Managing Foreigners	43
Specific Policies Targeting Semi-skilled Foreign Workers	45
Pathways of Professional, Skilled, and Semi-skilled Foreigners	49
Integration of Immigrants and Emigrants into the Singapore Society	50
3 Social Imperatives of Labour Migration	53
Social Organizations in a Bangladeshi Village	55
Claiming Social Status: From Traditional Tools to New Tools	57
Relative Social Status: A Crucial Sending-End Factor	60
The Geographical Imagination: Perception of Bidesh	72
Migration, Remigration, and the Cultural Notion of Work	75
The Diminishing Role of Conventional Education	76

4	Channelling Bangladeshi Migrants to Singapore	79
	Interplay Between Networks and Institutions	80
	The Migrant Network Sphere	82
	Social Bases of Network-Assisted Migration.	82
	Formation and Operation of Migrant Networks.	84
	The Recruitment Sphere	87
	The Recruitment Structure.	87
	The Economic Aspect of Recruitment.	90
	Reciprocity and Migration.	100
	The Other Side of Social Capital	103
5	Social Worlds of Migrants in Singapore	105
	Working Conditions	106
	Living Situations.	107
	Medical Care.	110
	Religious Life	111
	Migrant Poetry: A Reflection on Migrant Life	114
	Migrant-Focused Organizations.	117
6	Remittance as a Social Process	123
	Data Sources	126
	Remittance Transfer Channels.	127
	Remittance Prices	131
	Context of Remittance-Sending.	132
	Context of Remittance Receiving	133
	Recipients of Remittances	133
	Remittance Control	134
	Use of Remittances: The Migrant Worker's Perspective	136
	Use of Remittances: The Household's Perspective	137
7	Migration and Family Dynamics	139
	Impacts of Migration on Demographic Structure.	140
	Impacts of Migration on Economic Conditions.	145
	Impacts of Migration on Education, Medical Care, and Food Consumption.	150
	Homes in Migrant Baris : Cultural Consumption and Status Display	151
	Dhadon : A Business Enterprise for Migrant Wives.	153
	Outward and Upward Social Mobility.	155
	Generational Dynamics	157
8	Conclusion	161
	Bibliography	175
	Index	191

Bangladeshi Migration to Singapore

A Process-Oriented Approach

Rahman, M.M.

2017, XX, 198 p. 22 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-981-10-3856-3