

Contents

1	Introduction: The Relationship Between the Central Government and Local Governments	1
1.1	Central Government and Local Governments	2
1.2	Centralization and Decentralization	6
1.3	“Retaking” and “Delegating” Authority	10
2	Fiscal Responsibility System	17
2.1	Connotation and Evolution of the Fiscal Responsibility System	17
2.1.1	Pilot Stage (1980–1984)	19
2.1.2	Transition Stage (1985–1987)	20
2.1.3	Comprehensive Implementation Stage (1988–1993)	20
2.2	The Fiscal Responsibility System and Township Enterprises	25
2.3	The Fiscal Responsibility System and State-Owned Enterprises	28
2.4	Impact of the Responsibility System on the Relationship Between the Central Government and Local Governments	32
3	Tax-Sharing System	37
3.1	Background and Basic Connotations of the Tax-Sharing System	39
3.2	Tax-Sharing System and Transfer Payment System	44
4	Land Fiscal Revenues	57
4.1	Land Requisition and Land Revenues of Governments	58
4.2	Land Revenues	65
4.3	An Empirical Study of the Relationship Between the Tax System and Land Finance	72

5	Land Planning Quotas	81
5.1	Land Management System	82
5.2	Balancing Cultivated Land and Compensation: A Passive and Strict Control.	85
5.2.1	Summary.	88
5.3	Land Replacement and Conversion Quotas: A “Leeway” Under the Strict Control.	89
5.3.1	Summary.	93
5.4	Linking the Increase of Urban Construction Land and the Decrease of Rural Residential Land: A Quota-Stimulated Land Seeking Policy.	93
5.4.1	Summary.	100
5.5	Introduction of Plan Management and Liquidation Inspection: Narrowing Down the “Leeway”	101
6	Local Practice	105
6.1	Market-Oriented Logic of Quota Drift: A Case Study of the Land Quota System in Chongqing Municipality.	106
6.2	Relationship Among Local Governments at Various Levels Under the Land Quota System	109
6.3	From Admittance Ratification to Utilization Ratification: A Case Study of the Equity Exchange Platform in Rural Areas of Chengdu, Sichuan Province	111
6.3.1	Utilization Ratification Supersedes Admittance Ratification for Land Quota Trade in Chengdu	116
6.3.2	Target Price and New Inter-regional Mechanism Under the Increase and Decrease-Linking Policy	117
6.3.3	Future Development Trend	118
6.4	Project Logic of Local Governments: A Case Study of the Situation in Dayi County, Chengdu	120
6.4.1	Rapid Financing: Preliminary Logic in Regions of Target Selling	121
6.4.2	“Pass or Fail Mark” for Admittance: Strict Budget at the Grass-Roots Level.	121
6.4.3	Bundling Project Scheme: A Time and Effort-Saving Approach	122
6.4.4	Maximizing Circulating Quotas: An Inevitable Choice by Local Governments	124
6.5	Rapid Expansion of Local Financing Platforms & Large-Scale Capital Investment in Rural Areas	126
6.6	A Discussion on the Relationship Between the Central Government and Local Governments from the Perspective of Land Policies	129

6.6.1	Logic of Strict Central Control	129
6.6.2	Logic of Local Development.	129
6.6.3	Logic of Top-Down Incentives	130
6.6.4	Logic of Local Governments in Solidifying Benefits from the Reform	130
7	Relationship Between the Central Government and Local Governments & Urbanization.	131
7.1	Urbanization Driven by the “Trinity” of Land, Fiscal Revenues and Bank Investments.	131
7.2	“Concentrated Resettlement of Farmers in Multi-Storied Buildings” and “Capital Investment in Rural Areas”	136
7.3	A Brief Conclusion on the Relationship Between the Central Government and Local Governments	138
	References	141

Relationship between the Central Government and Local Governments of Contemporary China

Zhou, F.; Tan, M.

2017, IX, 144 p. 14 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-981-10-4387-1