

Contents

1	Public Sphere and Social Capital in the Age of Intermediality: Approach from Computational Social Science	1
	Kaoru Endo
Part I Theory
2	What Is Public Opinion? In the Age of Complexedly-Mediated Democracy and Scandal Politics	9
	Kaoru Endo
3	Does Agent-based Modeling Flourish in Sociology? Mind the Gap between Social Theory and Agent-based Models	37
	Yoshimichi Sato
4	Does the Internet Make People Selfish? Effects of the Internet on Citizens' Political Attitudes	47
	Naoki Sudo
Part II Empirical Investigation
5	Social Capital on Social Media	73
	Fujio Toriumi and Yuka Kamiko
6	An Examination of a Novel Information Diffusion Model for Social Media	93
	Keisuke Ikeda and Satoshi Kurihara
7	What Are Practical User Attributes in the Social Media Era?: Proposal for User Attribute Extraction from Their Social Capital	119
	Takeshi Sakaki

8	Measuring Social Change Using Text Data: A Simple Distributional Approach	139
	Takashi Kamihigashi, Kazuhiro Seki and Masahiko Shibamoto
9	Value Co-creative Manufacturing Methodology with IoT-Based Smart Factory for Mass Customisation	165
	Toshiya Kaihara, Daisuke Kokuryo, Shota Suginoichi and Swee Kuik
10	Has the 3.11 Disaster Brought About Conservatism in Japan?	181
	Masaki Hata, Jaehyun Song and Yutaka Shinada

Reconstruction of the Public Sphere in the Socially
Mediated Age

Endo, K.; Kurihara, S.; Kamihigashi, T.; Toriumi, F. (Eds.)

2017, VIII, 200 p. 79 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-981-10-6137-0