

Contents

|                                                                                                                                                          |    |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| Evaluation of Ultimate Pile Compression Capacity from Static Pile Load Test Results .....                                                         | 1  |
| Kedar C. Birid                                                                                                                                           |    |
| Behavior of Bored Piles in Two Soil Layers, Sand Overlaying Compressible Clay (Case Study) .....                                                  | 15 |
| Adel H. Hammam and A.E. Abdel Salam                                                                                                                      |    |
| Laboratory Study of Plug Length Development and Bearing Capacity of Pipe Pile Models Embedded Within Partially Saturated Cohesionless Soils ..... | 28 |
| Mahmood R. Mahmood, Karim H. Al-Helo, and Ali M. AL-harbawee                                                                                             |    |
| Bearing Capacity and Settlement of Pile Based on Cone Loading Test .....                                                                          | 44 |
| Philippe Reiffsteck, Henk van de Graaf, and Catherine Jacquard                                                                                           |    |
| Experimental Study on Ultimate Capacity of Large Screw Piles in Beijing .....                                                                     | 52 |
| Daping Xiao, Chunqiu Wu, and Houshan Wu                                                                                                                  |    |
| Stability Analysis of Steel Pipe Pile Reinforced Inhomogeneous Slope by Using Strength Reduction Finite Element Method .....                      | 59 |
| Shi Baotong and Kong Xiangxing                                                                                                                           |    |
| The Evolution of Analysis Methods for Laterally Loaded Piles Through Time .....                                                                   | 65 |
| Ahmed Moussa and Petros Christou                                                                                                                         |    |
| Reliability of Load-Transfer Approach in the Design of Large Diameter Bored Piles .....                                                           | 95 |
| Hayel El-Naggar, Mostafa Ahmed, and Sherif AbdelSalam                                                                                                    |    |

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |            |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| Numerical Study of Tapered Piles in Sand . . . . .                                                                                                                                                          | 108 |
| Mohsen Mohammadizadeh and Moein Mohammadizadeh                                                                                                                                                                     |            |
| A Full Scale Field Study: Evaluation of the Magnitude and TimeExtent of Excess Pore Water Pressure During the Installation ofAuger Pressure Grouted Displacement Piles in Downtown Orlando. . . . | 116 |
| Amr Sallam and Mohamed Alrowaimi                                                                                                                                                                                   |            |
| Evaluating Pile Setup Using Numerical Simulation and Introducingan Elastoplastic Constitutive Model for Clays . . . . .                                                                                | 130 |
| Firouz Rosti, Murad Abu-Farsakh, and Carol J. Friedland                                                                                                                                                            |            |
| Analytical Models to Estimate the Time Dependent Increasein Pile Capacity (Pile Set-up) . . . . .                                                                                                      | 143 |
| Murad Y. Abu-Farsakh and Md. Nafiul Haque                                                                                                                                                                          |            |
| The Effect of the L/D Ratio of Pile Group Using the EquivalentPier Method Including Interaction. . . . .                                                                                               | 157 |
| Pallavi Badry and D. Neelima Satyam                                                                                                                                                                                |            |
| Deep Foundations Case Histories in the East Coastof United States. . . . .                                                                                                                             | 171 |
| Raymond R. Mabnkbadi and Aravinda M. Ramakrishna                                                                                                                                                                   |            |
| Numerical Modeling of a Caisson Foundation Retrofittedwith Helical Piles. . . . .                                                                                                                      | 184 |
| Serhan Guner                                                                                                                                                                                                       |            |
| Theoretical Verification for Full-Scale Tests of PiledRaft Foundation . . . . .                                                                                                                        | 200 |
| Hussein H. Hussein, Hussein H. Karim, and Kais T. Shlash                                                                                                                                                           |            |
| Comparative Analysis of the Behavior of a Piled Raftand Corresponding Pile Groups. . . . .                                                                                                             | 213 |
| Hugo Pereira and António Viana da Fonseca                                                                                                                                                                          |            |
| Field Monitoring of Concrete Piles of an Integral Abutment Bridge. . .                                                                                                                                      | 230 |
| Khalid Alshibli, Andrew Druckrey, and George Z. Voyiadjis                                                                                                                                                          |            |
| Numerical Modeling of Pile Groups Composed of TwoOpen-Ended Steel Piles. . . . .                                                                                                                       | 241 |
| Khalid Abdel-Rahman and Martin Achmus                                                                                                                                                                              |            |
| Adfreeze Strength and Creep Behavior of Pile Foundationsin Warming Permafrost . . . . .                                                                                                                | 254 |
| Abdulghader A. Aldaeef and Mohammad T. Rayhani                                                                                                                                                                     |            |
| Effect of Deep Supported Excavation on the AdjacentDeep Foundation. . . . .                                                                                                                            | 265 |
| Qassun S. Mohammed Shafiqu and Ali A. Shawqi Al-Ameri                                                                                                                                                              |            |

Side Resistance Assessment of Drilled Shafts Socketed into Rocks:
Empirical Versus Artificial Intelligence Approaches . . . . . 288
Asmaa M.H. Mahmoud and Ahmed M. Samieh

Author Index. . . . . 303

Advances in Analysis and Design of Deep Foundations
Proceedings of the 1st GeoMEast International Congress and Exhibition, Egypt 2017 on Sustainable
Civil Infrastructures

Abu-Farsakh, M.; Alshibli, K.; Puppala, A. (Eds.)

2018, IX, 304 p. 223 illus., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-61641-4