

Contents

Introduction	1
Walda Katz-Fishman
 Part I Making the Personal Political: The Stories of Capitalism
‘Teaching Naked’ in Late Capitalism: Instructors’ Personal Narratives and Classroom Self-disclosure as Pedagogical Tools	13
Danielle Docka-Filipek
Untold Stories: Bringing Class into the Classroom	27
Adj Marshall and Betsy Leondar-Wright
‘Self-made’ Success on the Private Dole: An Illustration of the Reproduction of Capitals	41
Roxanne Gerbrandt and Ann Strahm
Financial Stumbles, Consumer Bankruptcy, and the Sociological Imagination	55
Deborah Thorne
 Part II Making Marxist Theory Real
Capitalism 101: Teaching First-Year Students How to View the Social World Through the Lens of Marxist Theory	69
Laura Earles
Teaching Global Inequality Through the World of Commodities	81
Eric M. Edwards
Radical Pedagogical Homesteading: Returning the ‘Species’ to Our ‘Being’	91
Phoebe Godfrey

Socialist Grading	103
David I. Backer
 Part III Applied Pedagogical Strategies for Course Development
Overcoming Students' Fear: Scaffolding to Teach Money and Society	113
Stephanie L. Bradley
Capitalism in the Classroom: Confronting the Invisibility of Class Inequality	125
Charlotte A. Kunkel
Experiencing the Outcomes of Economic Inequality in the Day-to-Day Workings of the Classroom	131
Susan Machum
Teaching Economic Inequality and Capitalism in Contemporary America Using Resources from the Federal Government	145
Andrew E. Kersten
Teaching Social Inequality Through Analysis of Hidden Assumptions in Non-Academic Publications	157
Pidi Zhang
Participatory Action Research as Problem-Based Learning: A Course Study of Rural Poverty, Low-Income Housing, and Environmental Justice	169
Leontina Hormel, Cynthia Ballesteros and Haylee Brister
Inequality and Violence	183
Barbara H. Chasin
 Part IV Intersections: Global and Local
Intersectional Marginalities in Rural Teacher Preparation: Teaching Beyond "What I Am Able to See Visibly"	199
Vanessa Anthony-Stevens
Economic Inequality and Race: No, It Can't Be that Bad...	213
Paul R. Croll
Irreversible Punishment: Teaching About Inequalities in Capital Punishment.	221
Kristine Levan
Making Room for a Postcolonial Critique in the Introductory STS Curriculum	233
Dilshani Sarathchandra

Utilizing Social Science Theories, Findings, and Comparative Analyses to Create a Framework for Understanding Economic Inequality”	243
Derek J. Robey and Jason P. Robey

Part V Capitalism and Higher Education: Constraints and Opportunities

Capitalism and the Cost of Textbooks: The Possibilities of Open Source Materials	257
Annie Gaines

Writing Against Ideology: Exploring Strategies that Resist Assessment Orthodoxy in the Classroom	267
Joshua Olsberg and Raphi Rechitsky

Lessons on Inequality and Capitalism: Perspectives from a Community College	283
Peter J. Wruck

Capitalism, Racism, and the Neoliberal University: The Case of the University of Missouri (Mizzou)	291
Rose M. Brewer

Against the “Institutional Real”: The Structural and Cultural Foundations of Corporate Higher Education and the Challenge to Developing Politically Engaged Students	301
Corey Dolgon

Conclusion: Final Words on Social Class and the Invisible Power Elite	321
--	------------

Appendix A: Classroom Activities and Assignments	327
---	------------

Appendix B: Examples of Syllabi	351
--	------------

Teaching Economic Inequality and Capitalism in Contemporary America

Haltinner, K.; Hormel, L. (Eds.)

2018, VII, 380 p. 5 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-71140-9