

Contents

1	Development Dynamics in Two Dualistic Societies of Asia	1
1.1	Introduction	1
1.2	Articulation (Segmental and Societal) versus Equilibrium (Market and System)	4
1.3	Nature and Laws of Dualistic Societies	10
1.3.1	Main Characteristics of a Dual Economy	11
1.3.2	Economic Dualism versus Functional Dualism	15
1.4	Market and Structural Disequilibrium under Disarticulation	17
1.5	Nature and Role of State Institution	21
1.5.1	Nature of State under State Capitalism and State Socialism	21
1.5.2	The Notion of Relative Autonomy of State	23
1.5.3	Role of State under State Capitalism	24
1.5.4	Role of State under State Socialism	28
1.6	Economic Development: Major Views and Strategies under Globalisation	32
1.6.1	Convergence of Structuralist and Institutional Views on Development	37
1.6.2	Development Strategies under Globalisation in China and India	39
2	Development in Modern India under Structural Dualism (1947–1980)	45
2.1	Introduction	45
2.2	Organised versus Unorganised Segments	46
2.3	Genesis of Prolonged Dualism under Modern India	48
2.3.1	Phase I: Planned Development Strategies/Policies under the Nehru Era (1947–1964)	48
2.3.2	Phase II: Dilution of Industrial Licensing System and Import Policy, and More Controls (1965–79)	52

2.4	Major Structural Changes of the Indian Economy (1951–1980)	56
2.4.1	Implications for the Unorganised Segment	60
2.5	Two Major Socio-Economic Consequences of Structural Dualism (1960–80)	62
2.5.1	Industrial Deceleration (1966–79)	62
2.5.2	Widening Development Disparity among the States (1960–1980)	64
3	Economic Liberalisation and Structural Dualism (1980–2017).	71
3.1	Introduction	71
3.2	Policy Changes during Pre- and Post-Comprehensive Liberalisation in India.	72
3.2.1	Phase III: Policy Changes towards Liberalisation (1980–90)	72
3.2.2	Phase IV: Policy Changes towards Comprehensive Liberalisation (1991–2004)	74
3.2.3	Phase V: Policy Initiatives under Comprehensive Liberalisation (2005–16)	76
3.3	Evaluation of India's Planned Socio-Economic Development (1980–2014)	82
3.3.1	Diminished Role of the Planning Commission	87
3.3.2	Trend in Poverty	89
3.3.3	Trend in Employment	90
3.3.4	Major Reasons for Low Rural Income	96
3.4	Implications of Economic Liberalisation for Unorganised Segment Employment.	96
3.4.1	Employment Growth in Rural and Urban Areas during the Post-Reform Period	97
3.4.2	Employment Growth in Unorganised Manufacturing Sector across the States.	100
3.4.3	Informal Segment as a Subset of the Unorganised Segment	104
3.5	Demonetisation and Goods and Services Tax (2016–2017): Implications for Dualism	107
4	Role of Social Sector Development Programmes during 1980–2016	113
4.1	Introduction	113
4.2	Direct Measures for Poverty Eradication and Social Sector Development Programmes	114
4.2.1	1980–90	114
4.2.2	1991–96	116
4.2.3	1997–2002	119
4.2.4	2004–2013	124
4.2.5	2014–2017	126

4.3	Government Expenditure on Socio-Economic Services: Composition, Trend and Impact	129
4.3.1	Distribution of Central Plan Assistance to the States during 1980–2014.	132
4.3.2	Interstate Variation in Social Sector Expenditures during 1990–2013	136
4.3.3	Interstate Comparisons of Selected Socio-Economic Indicators during 2001–2013.	140
4.4	Inclusive Growth under Co-operative Federalism during 2014–17	146
4.4.1	The 14th FC Recommendations on Centre–State Fiscal Relations	146
4.4.2	Cooperative Federalism and Inclusive Policies since the Mid-2014	149
4.4.3	Redistributive Resource Transfers (RRT) and Their Impact on States	151
5	Development under Digital Divide in India	155
5.1	Introduction	155
5.2	Origin and Growth of the Indian ICT Sector	158
5.2.1	Growth of India’s ICT-Enabled Service Sector	162
5.2.2	Software-Specific Incentive Policies during 1970–1995.	163
5.2.3	ICT-Specific Incentive Policies during 1996–2011	164
5.3	Success Story of India’s Telecom and Related Communication Services	168
5.3.1	India’s New Telecom Policy 2012	169
5.4	Digital Divide in India and Government’s Initiatives for Its Bridging	171
5.4.1	Initiatives to Bridge Digital Divide under the UPA-I & II Governments (2004–14)	171
5.4.2	Initiatives to Bridge Digital Divide under the NDA Government (2014–2017)	185
5.5	The Overall Socio-Economic Dynamics of India’s ICT Service Industry during 1995–2017.	192
5.5.1	Recent Start-Ups and Dynamism.	193
5.5.2	Re-skilling: Online Education-Technology Platforms	194
5.5.3	Online Start-Ups in India’s Informal Segment.	195
5.6	Post-Demonetisation Initiatives for Digital Transactions.	195
5.6.1	Bharat Interface for Money (BHIM)	195
5.6.2	Aadhaar Pay (or BHIM-Aadhaar Interface).	196
5.6.3	Is Aadhaar a Security Threat?	196
6	Conclusion	199
	References	205

Development under Dualism and Digital Divide in Twenty-First Century India

Dutta, D.

2018, XXV, 211 p. 8 illus. in color., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-981-10-6342-8