Hi Paul,

Thanks for your thought provoking suggestions. They do help me a lot. As time is slipping (university term has started and work load increased), I've just straight-lined the paper's general structure and implemented most of your suggestions into the current version. What is still needed (at least, from my point of view) is polishing up some of the content besides spelling, grammar and idiomatic style. I hope you will recognize again your suggestions in the new version.

I'm looking forward to hearing from you soon.

Best wishes

Klaus
