

The map in this exercise is interpreted in Fig. 8.26. The major thickness changes on the map are the result of missing section caused by normal faults. Note that the unit does not maintain exactly constant thickness because the faults are growth faults.