

1. Differentiation of various forms of portal hypertension, with measurement of blood pressure if necessary
2. Checking on the possibility of anastomosis in portal vessels
3. Detection of spontaneous splenorenal shunts
4. Proof of collateral flow in bleeding oesophageal varices
5. Follow-up after shunt operation
6. Suspected Budd-Chiari syndrome
7. Identification of the morphological course of hepatitis (with variations between the single segments)